"OO-y! My Corn-n! H-m, Use 'Gets-It'
Then You'll Have No Corns to Bump! Your Corns Will Come "Clean Off," Quick!

Put a little "Gets-It" on it; it dries at once. There's nothing to stick. Put shoes and stockings on right over it. No pain, no fuss, no hours—corns gone. "Gets-It" cures the true corn, never makes toes sore. If you have tried almost everything else for corns, you will be much more surprised to see how quickly and easily your corns and calluses will come right off with "Gets-It." Quit limping and wringing your face with corn-wrinkles. Try "Gets-It" tonight on that corn, callous, wart or bunion, and you'll be glad you read this.

"Gets-It" is sold by all druggists, 25c a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Company, Chicago. Sold in Los Angeles and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by The Owl Drug Co.

TINY NAVY MEN ARE LINING UP.

FOES OF DEFENSE PROGRAMME RALLY THEIR FORCES.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 9.—Foes of a big army and navy programme in the Democratic party are planning meeting here in advance of the regular session of Congress to rally their forces. A call will be sent out within a few days to members of Congress who are in sympathy with the movement to meet here the last week in November.

Representative Warren W. Bailey of Johnston, Pa., former Indianan, is taking the lead. He is making a canvass of the Democratic members through the medium of correspondence and he says opposition to a big army and navy is as strong as ever. Bailey is waiting to have another conference with William J. Bryan before announcing definite plans. Mr. Bryan is on his way here from the South, and Bailey has an appointment with him.

"All that I can say about Mr. Bryan," said Mr. Bailey, "is that he has on his fighting clothes." In a statement concerning the coming conference, Mr. Bailey said: "I have received many letters from members who opposed big naval programmes last year and almost uniformly they declare in unequivocal terms that they will oppose big expenditures for 'preparedness' in the coming session. Personally, my position is well known. The country is in no danger from foes without; and it will be in no danger from foes within if it shall put an end to privilege and monopolistic control, especially of natural resources."

"The madness should not go further than that which is attempting to drive Congress to plunging the country into debt for the purpose of providing defenses against an imaginary aggressor. There is not a nation on earth that has any reason for making war on us, and no nation will be stupid enough to do so unless we furnish the occasion. And this is precisely what the apostles of 'preparedness' will do if given their way. Some times I think that is what they wish to do. They talk peace but they want war. It should be remembered that the United States is not alone in the world. It is surrounded by a ring of fire. It is surrounded by a ring of fire. It is surrounded by a ring of fire."

HEAVY FROST CAUSING GREAT DAMAGE TO LATE CORN SETTLING DOWN OVER ILLINOIS—LAKE REGION IS COLD.
(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 9.—Heavy frosts, causing great damage to late corn, settled over Illinois last night. Chicago's maximum was 44 deg., rising from 32 deg., the freezing point. All the lake region and the East are cold. Most of the Middlewestern States went to freezing point or lower, but high winds saved much vegetation from the withering touch of frost. PANAMA RAILWAY LINE IS STILL VERY USEFUL.
(BY A. P. DAY WIRE.)
NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Deslairs in perishable freight consigned from the Pacific by way of the Panama Canal have taken steps to have ships now loading or loaded in Pacific Coast ports and about to sail, unload their cargoes for shipment by rail, because of the closing of the canal as a result of earth slides. Such action was taken by the Dried Fruit Association of New York, co-operating with the National Wholesale Grocers' Association and other interested organizations.
The delay due to the closing of the canal has caused no little concern to eastern receivers of Pacific Coast freight and the announcement by certain ship owners that the Straits of Magellan route involving an extra voyage of thirty days will be used until the canal is opened, will, they say, cause a great amount of inconvenience and probable loss to those who had adapted their business to the quicker route.

SMASH COAST DEFENSE IN THE NAVAL WAR GAME.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—For the second consecutive time the naval defense of the Atlantic Coast has been smashed, theoretically, and hostile troops landed on American soil. Admiral Fletcher's "Blue" fleet was scattered or destroyed by a night torpedo attack, the Navy Department announced tonight, and transports bearing an enemy landing force steamed into Delaware Bay at 6 o'clock tonight, bringing to an end the fall navy maneuvers which began October 4. Rear-Admiral Knight, commanding the "Red" enemy fleet, had until October 15 to make a landwith enthusiasm and anticipation of the most pleasant surprises of their stay at the Pan-Pacific Exposition, the 114 members of the Los Angeles Times party here this afternoon. The party, making its headquarters right at the exposition grounds, stopping at the Santa Cruz Inn, the only hotel within the walled dream city.

According to all members of the party, the trip up the Coast to San Juan was one filled with pleasure and delight. The excursionists were acquainted with each other because they had been in many places on the northward trip and congeniality of the party.
The trip was the stopover at Santa Cruz where the Times party was entertained by the Commercial Club of that city and Mayor Frank R. Howe. The party was taken on a sight-seeing trip over the town and surrounding country and before leaving a number of Santa Cruz maids presented these guests with great clusters of pink-pinked flowers.

TRIP TO BIG TREES.
Santa Cruz some of the party decided to make the trip to Big Trees while others preferred staying at the special train on which they were being made. At this time enough was provided to do ample justice to one of the world's greatest exposures to offer the tourist.

The train arrived here shortly after noon and under the guidance of Alexander F. M. Bowers, assistant manager of the times, who is personally conducting the excursion, the visitors were provided with special motor buses and driven to Inside Inn at the exposition.

When they made their first visit to the exposition, the members of the party, on getting out on the grounds at once to take in the world's greatest ex-posure. They made a trip over the grounds in automobile trains, more for the purpose of getting acquainted with the geography of the grounds, and the problem of sightseeing a more thorough way.

For Myself and Family

Peruna has Done Wonders.

Three years ago I was in a wretched condition with backache, bearing down pains, and at times was so sore and lame that I could not move about. I had inflammation and irritation, and although I used different remedies they did me no good.
"A neighbor who had been using Peruna advised me to try it, and I am glad that I did."

GIRLS! LOTS OF BEAUTIFUL HAIR

25 cent bottle of "Danderine" makes hair thick, glossy and wavy.

Removes all dandruff, stops itching scalp and falling hair.

To be possessed of a head of heavy, beautiful hair, soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff is merely a matter of using a little Danderine.
It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine now—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance, freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and luster, and try as you will, you cannot find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp—Danderine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower, destroyer of dandruff and cure for itching scalp and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.
If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits every one who tries this.

LODZ OVERRUN WITH BEGGARS.

APPALLING DESTITUTION SEEN IN THIS RUSSIAN CITY.

Fangs of Hunger Chase an Abnormal Death Rate Among the Babies, While Young Girls Sell Themselves to Get Money to Prevent Starvation.

[A. F. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENT.]
LODZ (Poland) Sept. 25.—An increased number of beggars is a sight common to all cities in territory occupied by the military forces, but nowhere in the other cities visited by the Associated Press correspondent who writes this are there such numbers nor do they display such pertinacity as here. In Lodz they follow the pedestrian for square after square, hands stretched out, whining constantly.
They await one outside the shops which he enters; they even enter the shops and restaurants.

This is but one of the signs of the appalling destitution which has already come upon many of the inhabitants. Actual hunger is a daily guest in thousands of homes; in other thousands it stands at the door. If the coming winter sees the war still going on, there will be misery and want indescribable. The city grants weekly payments to the needy, but they are only a drop in the bucket, amounting to from $1 to $1.50 a week for a family. Provisions are very dear, and other necessities of life have increased greatly in cost. To have a pair of shoes half-soled, for instance, costs $4.50. It used to cost $1.25.

BABIES DIE FAST.
Rabbi Triestmann, chief rabbi of the Lodz district, told the Associated Press representative that the destitute prevailing among the poorer people was beginning to show particularly in the great increase of the infant death rate. "The babies are dying at a sad rate," he said.
Here—and the same thing is ev-more apparent in Piotrkow—is to be observed one of the saddest results of the destitution, due to war. This is the great number of young girls, some of them mere children, who have had to choose an evil way to keep from starvation.

Lodz is pre-eminently a manufacturing city. The great bulk of its inhabitants normally work in factories, and these are now closed. There are,
for one thing, no raw materials to work on.
The closing of these factories and the resultant unemployment of thousands naturally crippled the buying power of these thousands, and countless small shops went to the wall.
Many persons (told to peddling on the streets, selling mainly cigarettes, an order goes into effect forbidding this free trade in tobacco and placing the business "en regle," that is, under the exclusive control of the govern-

ANTI-PARTY IS RETROGRESSION

Proposed Law is Analyzed and History Told.

Capt. Fredericks Opens up the Question.

First in Series of Arguments in Favor of Party.

[A series of six articles by Fredericks, discussing the proposed anti-party law, will appear in the Times from today to Oct. 15.]

The proposed anti-party law is intended to provide for elections similar to the procedure which has been used in cities and towns, and for the purpose of preventing the use of the law in the future. For probably the last twenty years the laws have recognized the fact that parties would exist and expand in the future, and for the purpose of preventing the use of the law in the future. BRAIN MAY WIN MONEY REWARD

"Times" Knowledge Contest to Start Wednesday.

To Prepare for it Brush up on Advertisers' Names.

And on Trade Marks, Slogans and Specialty Lines.

Watch for the full-page publication of advertisements in the Times' Knowledge Contest next Wednesday.

In the meantime, bearing in mind that $25 in gold will be distributed among those of the first forty to send in correct solutions of the problem, read each and every advertisement in the Times thoroughly today, tomorrow and Tuesday, that your recollection of trade marks, trade slogans and specialty lines may be refreshed. The contest is open to all who are regular advertisers who have knowledge of the value of printers' ink. Therefore, it is not a contest of the ordinary. Anyone who shops in Los Angeles or reads the advertisements is fitted to become a contestant. In addition, if doubt exists, all merchants who are contest-advertisers will give you full and free information in person or by telephone. Each advertisement will carry mention of some distinctive feature belonging to one firm alone. Any contestant uncertain as to the facts can verify them within a few moments in this manner. Of course, to all, however, the Times will refuse to accept solutions unless they are based on the facts as they appear in the contest.

TIMES EMPLOYEES BARRED

In addition to this no employee of the Times, nor member of such employee's family, is entitled to compete. Should such an employee be found, he will be barred from the contest.

The premiums offered are as follows: First payment $100 gold, Second payment $50 gold, Third payment $25 gold, Fourth payment $10 gold, Fifth payment $5 gold, Sixth payment $2 gold, Seventh payment $1 gold.

QUICK WITS SAVE LIFE OF SISTER

CLOTHES AFIRE; HEROIC WORK AVOIDS; ELDERLY MOTHER DEEPLY SHOCKED.

Prompt action on the part of her sister, who was in a nearby room at the time, probably saved the life of Mrs. Katherine L. Brickley, early yesterday morning, when she stooped over a small gas stove in the reading-room at her home at No. 1124 West Fifty-first place, her dress caught fire, enveloping her in flames from head to foot. Mrs. May L. Dunlevy, the sister, hearing screams, rushed into the room and grasping the situation immediately threw the young woman to the floor, wrapped a heavy rug about the burning dress, and actually rolled her sister out of the bungalow to the grass lawn.

POISON BY MISTAKE. A mistake in bottles early last night landed Miss Pearl Wilkins, 21 years of age, No. 520 South Flower street, in the Receiving Hospital to be treated for poisoning. Miss Wilkins, according to her statement to Dr. Kane in the hospital, took a bottle from a shelf in her room and swallowed some of the contents, thinking it was medicine. A short time later she discovered her mistake and called the police ambulance. The doctor declares she will recover.

At the Receiving Hospital, where the injured man was taken, he was treated for concussion of the brain and several lacerations on the head. His face was also cut by the broken glass from the bottle. According to Dr. Kane, serious results may develop from the blow on the head.

Questioned by Detectives King and Oakes in the Receiving Hospital, Mr. Sheehan declared he met a stranger in the downtown district and after taking a few drinks the stranger started for a walk. The stranger, who was a well-dressed young man, bought a bottle of beer and took it along.

When the bottle was opened, the recovered consciousness of the stranger was gone and also his purse. The detectives found no trace of the assailant.

DANGEROUS ILLNESS.
 Former Social Leader of Dubuque Stricken with Paralysis at Home Here—Condition Serious.

Relatives and friends of Mrs. Cecilia Zimmerman, 75 years old, formerly a social leader of Dubuque, Iowa, were alarmed to learn yesterday that she is dangerously ill at her residence in this city, the Young apartments, Seventeenth street and Grand avenue. Very little hope is held out for her recovery.

Mrs. Zimmerman came to Los Angeles ten years ago, following the death of her husband. She has six children, of which number, one daughter, Mrs. P. J. Rogde, resides in Los Angeles. Mrs. William F. Zimmerman, a daughter-in-law, also lives here.

Although falling in health because of advanced age, Mrs. Zimmerman was not considered seriously ill until three days ago, when she was stricken with paralysis.

SHARPER AUTO LAWS PROPOSED.

Impose Fine in Every Case, with no Suspension.

Court for All Speeders, not Commission.

Intoxicated Drivers to be Strictly Punished.

Here are the measures proposed at a conference yesterday as a cure for the speeding epidemic which is killing and injuring a great number of persons in Los Angeles:

Minimum fine of $5 for first offenders violating speed or traffic ordinances, with minimum of $10 or $15 for second offense and mandatory jail sentence for third offense, with possibility of heavy fine added.

Definite provision that no police judge may suspend sentence in any case.

Redistrict the city for speed regulations, following more closely the State law.

Increase the length of speed traps and discontinue practice of setting speed traps in open country where fast driving is not dangerous.

Provide special regulation for speed of heavy automobile trucks, more stringent than for light cars.

Enforcement of minimum fine of $50 for driving an automobile while intoxicated.

Eliminate speeding, cutting corners and failure to stop behind street cars from Police Traffic Commission and send all such first offenders to Police Court.

Adopting a general and far-reaching change in policy for handling automobile traffic in Los Angeles yesterday the conference of city officials called by the Mayor requested the City Council to redraft immediately the city speed and traffic ordinances along lines agreed upon at the meeting.

The changes to be made are the composite suggestions of the Mayor, Chief of Police, police judges, members of the Council and representatives of the Motor Car Dealers' Association, the Automobile Club of Southern California and the Auto Owners' and Drivers' Association. The action of the conference was outlined in a motion by Police Judge White and adopted by unanimous vote, which was in substance:

That the ordinances be amended to provide for a minimum fine of $5 for all offenders found guilty, with a fine of $10 or $15 for second offense, and a jail sentence for those guilty of a third offense, and that the police judges be requested to establish a definite rule that under the new minimum sentence, no penalties whatever shall be remitted or suspended, and that in cases where persons are guilty of driving an automobile while intoxicated, the minimum fine of $50 be imposed without exception, with jail sentences and higher fines when warranted.

TO NAME COMMITTEE.
 President Betkouski will appoint a special committee tomorrow to revise the traffic ordinances and incorporate the ideas brought out at yesterday's conference, with a view to passing it within the next few days. The question of providing for additional motorcycle police as requested by the Chief of Police and the Police Commission, is left for further consideration by the Council.

The discussion brought out statements from Police Judge Chesbro and Police Judge White that the police judges have been endeavoring to enforce the law in the matter of remitting fines and this system, in vogue for many months, was declared to be a failure in regulating automobile traffic in Los Angeles.

Many happy returns of the day.

FUNERAL TOMORROW.
 The funeral of O. A. Campbell, for many years engaged in business in Los Angeles, will be held tomorrow at the Magnolia street Christian Church. Mr. Campbell died Saturday, Oct. 9, at his home, No. 1252 West Twenty-fourth street. He was 55 years of age and leaves a widow and two children, Aileen and Hazel Campbell. For many years Mr. Campbell was engaged in the wholesale produce business, and later became manager of a tent and awning company, which position he held at the time of his death.

FRENCH DOG SENTRIES.
 Perform Their Duties More Quickly than a Man, and Prevent Many Surprise Attacks in the Night.

[Baltimore Sun:] The National Society of Ambulance Dogs of France now has eight kennels where experts are busy training patrol dogs, patch carriers, trench guards and ambulance dogs for service at the front.

Two hundred and twenty-five patrol dogs have just been sent to the front to accompany reconnoitering parties and carry messages. The dogs are able to perform this duty more quickly and safely than a man, and thus permit a patrolling party to maintain communication with the main force. It takes only ten days for a dog to learn to perform this service like a trained soldier.

The trench dog is taught to maintain silence until the enemy is within 200 yards, and then to give warning by a low growl. Many attempts of the enemy to make surprise attacks in the night have been detected by dogs. The service is as dangerous as that of an advanced sentry, and the dog often shares the same fate. Clarian, a remarkably intelligent sentry dog, which became the glory of his company before he was killed by a bomb, was buried with pomp and honored with a cross.

True, a little fox terrier, which sought out 150 wounded men in concealed places during the battle of the Marne, was recently sent back to the front after a well-earned rest.

FLORIST GROWERS INVITED TO COMPETE FOR CURE.

The Broadway Automobile and Flower Show, the Los Angeles Times, invites noncommercial growers of Southern California to exhibit cut roses, carnations, dahlias, carnations, begonias and other flowers and potted plants at the big show to be held the 30th of this month in the entire building opposite City Hall, recently vacated by the Boston Store. Forty handsomely offered as prizes to winners in forty classes. There is no entrance fee nor other obligation. Please fill in and mail attached entry blank and space will be reserved for you. Exhibitor is entitled to a season pass, which will be issued at the building the morning of the opening day.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENT

PASADENA, Oct. 10.
 will be the next great war and will be succeeded as the power within fifty years.

"Slavs" is a statement made by Dr. C. A. Homan, chief of the Baptist Hospital at Abbeville, who is visiting at Pasadena, Cal.

"The financial power of the world will be in the hands of the Slavs," he said, "if peace is not declared before the war is over."

Dr. Homan for years has been a student of the Slavs, and he is now in Pasadena, Cal., where he is visiting at the Baptist Hospital at Abbeville, who is visiting at Pasadena, Cal.

Because he speaks with authority, his statements are being taken seriously by the American public. Then their abuse and shock have been increased.

"At the outbreak of the war," Dr. Homan yesterday, "I was practically an advocate of the Slavs, but on the other hand, as well as all Germany, and progress of the war has changed my opinion."

"I found that Germany's war effort was not as great as I had supposed, and that the Slavs were not as weak as I had supposed."

TRY THIS FOR A COLD—IT'S FINE!

"Pape's Cold Compound" ends severe colds or grippe in few hours.

You can get colds and break up a severe cold either in head, chest, body or limbs, by taking a dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" every two hours until three doses are taken. It promptly opens clogged nostrils and air passages in the head, stops nasty discharge or nose running, relieves sick headache, dizziness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stuff up! Quit blowing and snuffing! Ease your throbbing head—nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only 25 cents at any drug store. It acts without inconvenience, takes place and causes no inconvenience. Be sure you get the genuine.

There are a great many artists who can paint a picture worth a few dollars—there are others, far less numerous, who, given the same material, will paint a picture worth thousands. It's all in the skill and care and knowing how.

My Restoration Plate

is the last word in the artistic restoration of lost teeth. It produces most pleasing results in restoring the expression of well-being and character that the normal roundness of the cheeks and mouth gives one. It makes a once hollow face really good to look at.

This is not a $5.00 plate, but one that is worth while as a permanent investment—one that results in which will please you immensely for years.

Cut out my address and come and see me.

RANGERS HOPE TO BEAT OUT FIRE THIS MORNING.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

San Bernardino, Oct. 9.—(By direct wire.)—A fire which has been burning since last night in the San Bernardino mountains, near the town of San Bernardino, is being fought by a large force of rangers and volunteers. The fire is burning in a heavy brush in the main canyon, which is the watershed that furnishes the supply for San Bernardino and Fontana. Glenn Ranch, the resort, and large apple orchards are located several miles up the canyon in the north fork and are in danger of being reached by the fire.

Barring adverse changes in the wind, the rangers reported tonight that the fire should be under control early tomorrow.

MURVEY OF THE BROAD FIELD

XXXIVTH YEAR.

NEW ERA DAWNING FOR SAN FERNANDO VALLEY.

Court Decision Clearing A way All Bond Technicalities Insures Early Carrying Out of Great Irrigation Project in Annexed District—Splendid Achievements to Date Sure Augury for Bright Future.

THE recent Supreme Court decision clearing away the technical difficulties in the San Fernando Valley irrigation bond proceedings promises to be a forerunner of a wonderful era of development in the city's vast new farming suburb. Through the act of the court, more than $2,000,000 in bonds voted by the valley people for the construction of their great high pressure pipe lines have been placed upon a basis that will attract investors. The ruling puts an end to delays and will hasten by at least a year the work on the mains and laterals of the valley's permanent water system, complete plans for which were long ago prepared.

The court decision has filled the land owners of the valley with joy. No such piece of luck as an immediate untangling of the legal red tape that has delayed their financial arrangements had been anticipated even by the most optimistic. Especially happy are those of the owners who have advanced their own money for the construction of pipe lines and fixtures being willing to wait for reimbursement from the bond proceeds. Through these individual efforts, several thousand acres have already been brought under water, crop production has been increased and the city of Los Angeles has received its initial revenue from the irrigated surplus.

The San Fernando Valley is bound to go ahead from now on as never before. Remarkable activity has prevailed in the district, even during the present none-too-lively year, with real estate and building generally at a low ebb and with no such stimulus as that just afforded by the settling of the bond problems. The fact is that the valley people, after voting their bonds and seeing their fondest hopes of eventual triumph realized through annexation to Los Angeles, refused to be dissuaded by the purely technical obstacles that threatened to delay their most cherished enterprise. Instead, they proceeded to carry out their great project after another, content to wait upon the future. Their confidence has now had its reward.

Under the terms of an important new law, the San Fernando Valley was opened for public inspection. A number of persons viewed the sub-urban $11,000 building and saw the new plan cleaner, which is one of the features of the establishment, in the building for the first time.

The building is the first unit of a new project, which is being developed by the Van Nuys-Lankershim Growers' and Shippers' Association. The construction of a permanent character, brick building having been used as far as possible. The warehouse is 100x100 feet, with a storage capacity of 6,000 sacks of beans or 10,000 sacks of corn. It contains every modern facility, including a large elevator, a platform scale, and a large office.

THE EVER-HIGH TIDE.

Metropolitan Improvement for Westlake District.

Apartment-house for Dr. James H. Edmonds.

Modern fireproof structure to be started at once at northwest corner of Sixth and Lake streets, overlooking Westlake Park. John Parkinson is architect.

FACT AND COMMENT.

The sale of the 6000-acre Stough ranch at Burbank, reported exclusively in The Times last Wednesday, was in many ways a remarkable transaction. The ranch was probably the largest body of land in the immediate vicinity of Los Angeles that has remained under a single ownership until the present day. Up to the time he sold the vast property to the owner, Oliver J. Stough, had never sold an acre of it. Several years ago Mr. Stough donated outright a valuable five-acre parcel of the holding as a site for the present Burbank Union High School. Otherwise, the property has remained intact for nearly a quarter of a century.

Mr. Stough bought the ranch in 1892, at a time of money stringency and financial disturbances, paying a few dollars an acre for it. Now, in a period, which while not for any sense, panicky, is yet dull by comparison with the livelier times that long ago came to be accepted as normal in Southern California, he receives for the same tract nearly $1,000,000. A great deal of the story of the Southland's tremendous advance and of the phenomenal rise of Los Angeles is revealed in these simple facts.

Ranks with Largest.
The deal ranks among the notable land transactions of local real estate history. It is particularly significant at this time that the transfer was made on a money basis instead of representing merely the trading of one property for others, the custom so prevalent ever since the beginning of the quiet conditions in 1913. As a straight sale, the deal signifies in quite a convincing way that return of confidence and better times indicated in so many ways during recent months.

The transfer of the ranch is to be followed almost at once by important development operations involving the expenditure of large sums of money. Mr. Stough had made his ranch into one of the most highly-improved of the great land holdings of Southern California. Mr. Casbeer and his associates will transform it into an urban farming community of many productive agricultural tracts and many homes. By cutting the property into small farm plots, town lots and foothill estates, they will cause it to be distributed among many owners instead of being under the sole control of one man. There is enough good land in the ranch itself to give a foothold to many hundreds of settlers.

Planned Public Park.
A large part of the ranch lies in the wooded hills and canyons back of Burbank. Over the shoulders of these hills Mr. Stough completed several years ago a private drive that for scenic charm is probably unsurpassed in this section. The plans of the new owners, it is declared, contemplate that this beauty spot shall be made accessible to the general public. Before deciding to dispose of the ranch, Mr. Stough himself had employed engineers to lay out 100 acres of the picturesque hill land as a public park for Burbank. The death of his wife about six months ago caused him to abandon this plan and place the property upon the market.

A Century Young.
Mr. Stough himself is a remarkable man. Although within two years of being a centenarian, he possesses the vigor of a youth who has only reached the ripe old age which tradition fixes at three score and ten. He was his own broker in the $1,000,000 deal involving his ranch, having written most of the agreements on his own typewriter. He has always been his own secretary, stenographer, book-keeper and business agent.

Mr. Stough is a living example of what Southern California's climate will do for man, even as the ranch he has just sold is a concrete evidence of what the climate, plus water and careful cultivation, will do for the soil.

WILL OVERLOOK WESTLAKE PARK.

Fine Apartments for Sixth and Lake Streets.

Papers Signed Yesterday for Notable Project.

Building will be Fireproof and Modern.

One of the finest apartment-houses ever projected on the Pacific Coast is to be started at once on a valuable site overlooking Westlake Park. The building, a thoroughly metropolitan improvement, both architecturally and in point of arrangement and furnishing, will stand at the northwest corner of West Sixth and Lake streets and will represent a total investment including the cost of the grounds and equipment, of approximately $300,000. The project is one of several big enterprises signaling what is decreed by builders and capitalists generally to be the beginning of a genuine revival in local development operations.

The structure is projected by Dr. James H. Edmonds. Plans have been completed by Architect John Parkinson and the general contract has been let to the Alta Planing Mill Company of this city, the final papers having been signed yesterday. The site has already been cleared and excavations will probably be started this week.

The building will front 100 feet on West Sixth by a like depth on Lake, having entrances on both streets. It will be of reinforced concrete construction and absolutely fireproof. There will be seven floors above a high basement, the final papers having been signed yesterday. The site has already been cleared and excavations will probably be started this week.

There will be seven floors above a high basement, the final papers having been signed yesterday. The site has already been cleared and excavations will probably be started this week.

ELEGANT LOBBY.
The patio will open directly into the lobby, which will extend clear through to the rear of the building, being lighted from above through an art glass dome. Off the lobby will be a ladies' parlor, a billiard room, cardroom and the elevators. Extending along the west side of the court and lighted from the south and west, will be a ballroom 42x52 feet in size. French doors will open from this room onto the floor of the patio.

Three large apartments will be the greater part of the east wing.

The space from the second to the seventh floors, inclusively, will be given over entirely to the apartments, which there will be thirty-two four-room and eight three-room suites. Each suite will have its own private bathroom, giving every room a direct entrance and each will have French windows opening onto an outside balcony. The baths will be in tile and marble and will have showers, as well as tubs. All bedrooms will be arranged for open beds instead of for the customary wall beds.

The conveniences of the place will be many and modern. A refrigeration system designed to attract all the ice boxes in the various apartments from a central plant in the basement will be a feature. The elevator service will be of the latest type and will also the heating arrangements. In the basement will be provided ample trunk and storage space, together with service and linen rooms.

All partitions in the building will be of terra cotta tile and so planned to be soundproof. The woodwork throughout will be of mahogany. The floors will be of oak, laid over concrete and tile. The grounds are to be attractive, laid out in lawn and formal garden.

NEW INDUSTRY FOR HARBOR.

ANNOUNCEMENT MADE OF POTASH AND BORAX REFINERY.

Construction of the proposed new plant of the American Trona Corporation at the harbor, on the seven-acre tract leased for a long period from the Southern Pacific, will be begun immediately, according to advice received yesterday by W. W. Kinney, head of the Chamber of Commerce Industrial Bureau, from Baron A. de Rapp and his consulting engineer, C. P. Grimwood. The latter is in direct charge of the plans.

Only one of a number of units will, it is said, be built at this time, and this will employ about fifty men in the handling of 200 tons of crude salts. These will be converted into potash, borax and other mineral products, such as carbonate and sulphate of sodium, caustic soda, chloride of potassium and borates. The shutting off of supplies from Germany, have curtailed the use of some of the minerals in this country.

The crude salts, it is stated, will be shipped from Trona, on Seaford Lake, where the mining operations have been in progress for some months past and to which a thirty-mile, standard-gauge railroad connecting with the Southern Pacific has been completed. Contracts for machinery have been let as far as possible to California concerns, the Lewellyn Iron Works of this city getting the most for all steel.

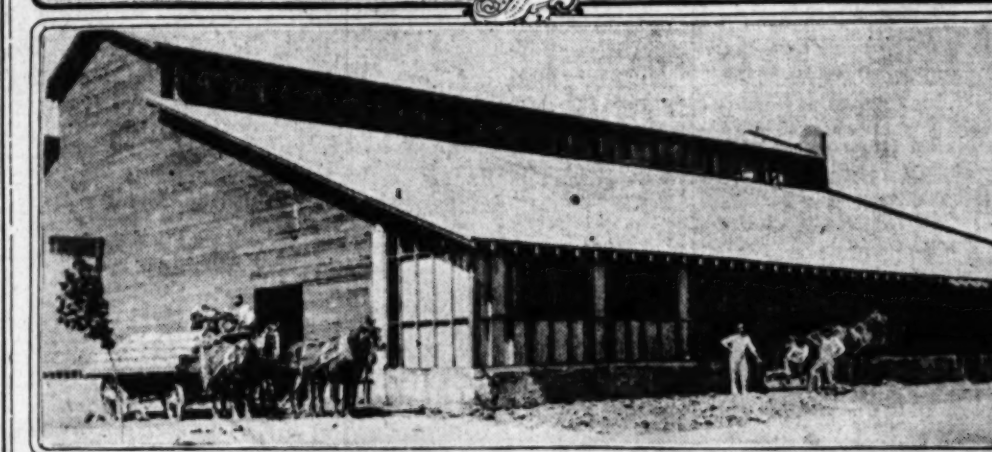

TRADES FOR GROVE.
O. E. Van Slyke reports having handled the exchange of a forty-acre walnut grove at Bloomington for Grant O. Warner of Pasadena, to Dr. Edward Mattocks of this city. Mr. Warner received in the trade 110 feet of frontage on North Main street, Pasadena, and ten acres in the Whittier Acres tract at Santa Fe Springs. The Pasadena holding is improved with a nine-room house. The grove property at Bloomington is set to three-year-old budded trees and interest with peaches and apricots. The total value of the properties involved is $50,000.

AN EXCEPTIONAL WILSHIRE OPPORTUNITY

ELEGANT 10-ROOM RESIDENCE FOR SALE AT A SACRIFICE

A beautiful hardwood finished home is located on a big east front lot less than half block north of Wilshire and very close to Windsor Square, where the finest residential improvements in Southern California have been built. The exterior is of a very distinctive type having the lower story finished in white plaster. The upper story is finished with selected shingles. A broad cement porch opens into a beautifully finished hall. The living-room is large and elegantly finished in quarter-sawn oak and imported decorations. The fireplace is massive and of unique design. A large number of windows afford the very best light and exposure. The dining-room is one of the most elegant to be found any place, being finished in mahogany, with costly lighting fixtures and beautiful buffet equipped with beveled glass doors. The breakfast-room is of the proper size and location to be altogether practical. The kitchen is strictly equipped with all the latest features included. Maid's room and bath also located on the first floor. The upstairs contains four extra large bedrooms, each beautifully decorated and equipped with the latest space, dressing-rooms, etc. The bath is perfect, containing only standard fixtures. An upstairs double garage with cement drive, etc. The grounds are beautifully improved with lawns, shrubs and trees. Double garage with cement drive, etc. The price has been placed for quick sale at this figure it is nearly $2000 below actual value. Terms can be arranged for responsible parties, but this action is necessary as such a bargain will not last long. Phone at once for appointment.

LOS ANGELES STOCK EXCHANGE.

Amalgamated Oil in Demand.

Home Telephone may be listed.

Saturday's session of the local exchange was devoid of features and volume of sales fell off considerably compared to the previous day's transactions. Home Telephone securities were weak, a loss of 1/2 point being registered in the preferred stock and 4 of a point in the common. Amalgamated continues to be a heavy seller and over one hundred shares changed hands yesterday on a declining market. Associated was firm with no activity in Union. Scattering sales were recorded in Oilfield Land and National Pacific at unchanged quotations.

Lucky Boy was the favorite trader

among the mining issues, 8000 shares selling around 18. One thousand shares of Pasadena Gold sold at 17 1/2 and a like amount of Arizona

East brought 24 1/2. It is rumored that several new Oatman stocks will be listed on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange during this week. The names most common are: Oatman, Oatman

Range and Boundary Cons.

FAT COTTON BOLLS YIELDING TWO AND A HALF MILLIONS.

Prosperity's Smile Even Brighter Over Imperial Valley, with Strong Prices and a Healthy Market—Los Angeles will Profit by this Bumper Crop.

OWN in the Imperial Valley cotton is in bloom, boll and bale. The plantations are dotted with pickers in the field, the roads are a-rumble with great racks of the fleecy freight drawn by strings of ten-mule teams. In the towns, the oil mills and compresses are whirling with new life. Over the railroad that traverses the valley long trains are rolling out with cargoes destined for domestic, Asiatic and European markets. The cotton season is on.

With lint finding a market at 13 cents a pound where a year ago at this time it went begging at 6, prosperity's warming smile is cast over the wonderful valley. With $2,500,000 of outside money realizable for the crop at current quotations, credit lines are being arranged in all their extensive ramifications and development work is given emphasis. Projected buildings are to become a reality, waste land is to be reclaimed, and the real estate, particularly cotton land, the demand is the most brisk since the opening of the war. If the market remains firm, the cotton area in Imperial Valley next year will be doubled to 80,000 acres.

In this prosperity Los Angeles will share. Directly so through the harbor, where 10,000 bales will be transhipped for Liverpool and 3000 more for China and Japan, if through bills of lading and other shipping details can be arranged. The first shipment of valley cotton bought directly for Chinese mills went forward last week for Shanghai, but was routed through San Francisco, although the freight difference between San Pedro and San Francisco amounts to $1.25 a bale. The consignment was 150 bales.

The growing importance of the Imperial Valley as a cotton producer is indicated by the fact that while the acreage is yet insignificant as compared to that of the Old South and the year slightly cut down, fourteen new representatives American and foreign principals are now in the valley, while last year there were but two. A premium of from thirty to fifty cents over the New Orleans market is paid because of purer color and freedom from taint and trash.

Twenty 200 bales went forward to the Centro for Liverpool via Los Angeles Harbor, the first of a number of shipments to be shipped to England within ten days. Cotton sold in the market at 12 1/2 cents, the highest price since the government report last week, showing the American crop at but 65 per cent. normal, was jumped to 12 cents, and a large consignment is considered about the best now.

Although the industry is comparatively new, records have been kept up that have not been kept in the Old South. With no strain on the superlative Imperial Valley cotton is the heaviest, richest, and most productive, and besides, is the "cheap" product. Of these things, the valley is a superior lint through absence of rain, which is not a deterioration of quality, and no trouble in ginning and weighing is experienced because of the dry heat dispels the curse of the South, which is the boll rot, and strikes out another ring of cotton.

WOMEN SEE PERILS LURKING IN THE NO-PARTY MEASURE.

Lawyers, Doctors, Club Leaders and Housewives are One in Outspoken Opposition—Johnson Scheme to Fix Grip on State is Denounced.

BY ALMA WHITTAKER.

THE women voters of Los Angeles hold some strong views on Gov. Johnson's anti-party law, which will be the main issue at the election two weeks from Tuesday. During the week I have talked with representatives of women in all walks of life and all those who have given the matter their consideration are dead against what they are quick to perceive is a brilliant political scheme for crowning the ebullient Governor overlord of California destinies for years to come.

Prominent and intelligent women everywhere are intent upon opposing the scheme with all their strength. Women lawyers, doctors, clubwomen, society women, business women and housewives everywhere are fully aroused to the dangers of a modern oligarchy established under the specious guise of nonpartisanship, and the captivating slogan of "the man for the office and not for the party."

There is no such thing as nonpartisanship. We are all partisans and every measure that comes up for debate will promptly create parties in any community if men have not lost all sense of conscience and their State's weal. Since there will always be parties in any case, how much better that the candidates for office should be selected recommended and supported by a reputable and traditional party, a whole organization that will stand to suffer for the misdeeds of its representatives, and to gain credit for their worthy achievements.

In every condition of life organization has been found essential to success. Whether it be business, religion, charity, sport or mere pleasure, organization is always necessary if anything is to be accomplished, if a few enthusiastic cranks are not to create chaotic conditions, confusion worse confounded.

Does anyone suppose that Gov. Johnson would have started this anti-party agitation if the "Progressive" party had remained a power to reckon with? He would have wished to perpetuate the name of his party and to have vaulted its achievements through the land. But the "Progressive" party being lamentably and utterly dead, a first-class political behemoth the ingenious Governor hastening to announce that since his weak and spurious party perished out of the young life so miserably, all parties should, therefore, die.

As Miss Kate Bernier O'Rourke, the witty Irish poetess and song writer, remarked, it is the old fallacy of the fox who lost his tail in a trap and thereafter devoted his life to assuring foxes in general that a tail was not a burden, an embarrassment, useless, awkward, ungainly, and that one was obviously more graceful without one! "But," said an old fox gravely, "I am known by the company they keep," while you may have found it a good and necessary thing to part with your own tail, we shall not feel the urgent necessity of parting with ours until we find ourselves in the predicament that you were in when you became so heartily converted!"

Exactly.

REPUBLICAN VIEW.

Clara Shortridge Foltz, the clever woman lawyer and a staunch Republican, president of the Million Club, feels very strongly on the subject. "Men are known by the company they keep," she said, "in political as in business and social life. Political parties en masse adhere to certain principles of government, and every member of a party stands for these principles. His party knows him, selects him for his abilities and his worthiness to perform the duties entrusted to him. They will support him and are responsible for him."

"Partyless, a man may be guilty of all the ingenious dexterity of political legerdemain and pursue his own selfish interests to the disadvantage of the electorate. Not being responsible to any definite society, and feeling in no sense obligated to the people en masse, he will, of course, act irrespective of the wishes of anybody and without scruple as to results."

"Party principles and ideas are vital to good government and serve as a needed check on representatives. This anti-party law is misshapen, a heterogeneous monster of personal ambition. Its object is the total abolition of all State governments. If adopted it will serve to elevate a few men above the common herd of mankind and will work a humiliation on the whole electorate. It will defeat the high aims of all political education, and the self-serving politician will be promoted by the lawless institution of the unorganized voters."

FROM A DEMOCRAT.

Miss Mary Foy, prominent in all women's interests and a Democrat of the Democrats, has written many caustic and brilliant criticisms of this anti-party scheme. She ably points out that we have had no less than four primary laws thrust upon us during the last six years, and each one passed to remedy a given grievance has obviously proved an aggravation rather than a remedy. It is a question of incessant and ill-considered guesses, which have borne heavily upon us and wrought distrust and unrest in the minds of the people.

The present Governor, she reminds us, is the first primary law of 1909 repealed and inspired the enactment of another in 1911, which had to be amended later in the same year. In 1912, behold, still another primary law to supersede the last, which, in its turn, was repealed by the last Legislature, so that a long-suffering people have invoked the referendum.

"Progressive" ideals, says Miss Foy, "are toward one-man power—the old idea of the old system of the Old World, where tradition and militarism rule. Surely, the good people who have worked for real progressive ideas are astute enough to see the bad old idea of centralism and personal rule that is hovering over this last law, ready to drop on us and crush us if we don't watch out."

BUSINESS WOMAN SPEAKS.

Mrs. M. Z. Elliott, a woman of large business interests and, as she describes herself, the mother of three promising young suffragettes, is very earnest in her opposition of the anti-party law, although, at the last election, she had much sympathy with the "Progressives."

"I consider that the coming election is so fundamental a thing that it is criminal to let sleeping dogs lie. They must be awakened to watchfulness and action. Party competition is the very life of Democracy as it is of trade. And noncompetition is the life of socialism. And if, as we are assured, we cannot eliminate the boss, then better a boss with a potent party than a boss without a watch dog at all. How could England hope to control her one-man machine, the crown, without parties and the House of Lords? How could the United States have been abolished from New York had not a strong party been organized to defeat him? Of course, Gov. Johnson's idea is to strengthen his own hands. We shall be incredibly foolish to deprive the officers of State and the Legislature of the only organized check upon their actions. Why not break the parties with their alert watchfulness upon each other's weaknesses?"

DOCTOR AND CLUBWOMAN.

Miss Margaret Woodman, an enterprising physician of this city, reminds us that there is nothing so interesting as a careful study of the party system of government which the great nations of the world have unhesitatingly adopted as the best known means of good government. "Does not receive half the attention that it should. Those countries with strong, clearly-defined parties, like the United States and Great Britain, Canada, Australia and New Zealand, can proudly claim to be the best governed. Much of France's weakness of late years has been the breaking up of the two strong parties into numerous small and ineffective groups, all working against each other, with no big and convincing majority or one subject to mal-governed government effective. Which is exactly what could be trusted to happen in this State if the Johnson anti-party law is enacted for the partisan idea is ingrained in the human mind, and without effective organization, numerous small and self-interested factions will inevitably materialize."

Mrs. Chester Ashley, the well-known clubwoman and thoughtful student of political affairs, is definitely opposed to anti-party law. "I unhesitatingly disapprove of these perpetual changes and complicated amendments, which confuse the voter and leave him vague and uneasy, with that uncomfortable sense of uncertainty if he has any political conscience, and indifferent and neglectful otherwise. California will gain an unenviable reputation for not knowing its own mind for any consecutive time. We act towards our lawmakers like a spoiled child with its toys, forever pulling them to pieces and craving new ones."

"INFAMOUS! ABSURD!"

Mrs. M. E. Moore, journalist and mining expert, condemns the proposed law as "infamous and absurd." It means the disintegration of state government. One might as well try to conduct business without firms and corporations."

Hugh Allan

Famous Operatic Baritone

Hugh Allan, the popular baritone, is one of the few Americans to gain recognition by the foremost musical critics of Europe. He has appeared with great success in Berlin and at the Deutsches Opernhaus, Charlottenberg.

Mr. Allan also filled a very successful engagement with the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York, and with Mary Garden, he will soon begin an American tour of several months' duration.

For the present Hugh Allan is visiting in Los Angeles and has consented to appear in recital before the Friday Morning Club, October 22, at 8:15, at his own concert at the Kendis Apartments, October 23, at 8:15.

Mr. Allan is enthusiastic in his praise of the Chickering Piano. In his recital reproduced below will indicate.

Condemned—
I am certainly delighted with the Chickering Piano and consider it the most perfect instrument I have ever had the pleasure of using in my concert work in Europe and America.

In wonderful, exquisite tone blends beautifully with the voice. This feature of the Chickering Piano alone should commend it to the critical musician and to the home that desires to purchase the best.

I take pleasure in endorsing this magnificent instrument.

Yours sincerely,
Hugh Allan

MEXICAN TRADE BRINGS RETURNS

RECENT DISBURSEMENTS OVER A MILLION DOLLARS.

Authority Asserts Need, However, of More Attention to Offered Business—Assures Regular Sailings
Soon and Definite Quotations on Rates.

"More than $1,000,000 has been disbursed in this city by Mexican merchants in five months," said William Taylor, agent of the Los Angeles Van, Truck and Storage Company, yesterday. "Furthermore, the payments have been made in coin of this country. It is time that our merchants awakened to the advantages of cultivating closer commercial relations with the West Coast of the southern republic."

A Spaniard by birth and long a resident of Mexico, Mr. Taylor recently perfected arrangements by which the company he represents has taken over the agency for a large number of Sonora and West Coast merchants, and also the chartering of boats to carry on the trade.

"The West Coast of Mexico," he said, "is now, and has been for some time, out of the fighting zone of the republic, and therefore free to carry on trade undisturbed by the chaos existing in other portions of that country. Los Angeles' position, both geographically and commercially, is such as to make it nearly impossible for any other Pacific Coast city to cope with it as the natural outlet and inlet for both Mexican and South American trade."

"But, unless our Los Angeles business men soon awaken from their lethargy, a bomb will be exploded under their feet in the form of the sudden realization that the business literally thrust into their hands has gone elsewhere. At the present time I am convinced, through investigations made by myself, that business amounting to thousands of dollars daily is to be had for the asking."

Regarding the present inadequate transit facilities to the West Coast, Mr. Taylor stated that arrangements are now being made with a certain company by which weekly sailings will be offered from here.

"We now have sailings every other week," he said, "but not all space is taken, that is, on every trip. The Fairhaven, however, that will sail Tuesday, will carry more than 600 tons of Los Angeles merchandise to Mexico."

"Within the near future," he continued, "this company will not only be in position to offer regular sailings to Mexican ports, but will be in position to quote uniform freight and passenger rates. The desirability of this last will be patent to merchants, many of whom have been reluctant to engage in the trade in which the item of uncertainty has been large."

"Eventually, it is expected that a clearinghouse will be established here for the Mexican trade. Through this instrumentality the merchants desiring goods and those having them for sale can meet and talk it over."

NO HALF-WAY "DROUTH" FOR PROHIBITIONISTS.

"All or Nothing," the Party's Slogan, and the State Chairman Announces it will Take no Official Part in Anti-saloon League's Campaign—Col. Laub, Liquor Industries' Chief, Holds Similar Views.

THE prohibition party in California will not participate in an organization in the 1916 "wet-dry" fight. This announcement was made yesterday by Charles R. Burger, State chairman of the Prohibition party.

The California Campaign Federation, which is conducting the campaign for the adoption of the two dry amendments, is dominated almost entirely by the Anti-Saloon League, which is not now and never has been in sympathy with the Prohibition party, nor the Prohibitionists with it.

"The Prohibition party, as a party, will devote all its energies and time to electing its candidates for office next year," said Chairman Burger.

"We do not believe that the proposed amendments meet the situation, and we are quite sure that the adoption of either or both of them would set back the cause of prohibition in California for twenty-five years."

"The amendments are a compromise with which the prohibitionist does not sympathize. The Fresno convention was dominated by the Anti-Saloon League and its affiliated organizations."

"The Prohibition party is for prohibition—State-wide and absolute. No middle-of-the-road proposition goes."

The "dry" forces, which counted upon the support of the political organization of the Prohibition party, will find a serious breach in the programme, according to Chairman Burger's statement.

The Prohibition party has adopted the all-or-nothing policy and will refuse to compromise itself upon any proposition that is not harmonious in spirit with the principles of the party faith.

FEELS THE SAME WAY.

Col. Henry Laub, head of the liquor interests in Southern California, when told of the neutrality of the Prohibition party in the coming fight, said that he stands on an all-or-nothing platform himself, and in that respect he agrees with the State chairman of the Prohibition party.

"I believe the liquor men should stand together upon the one principle of all dry or all wet," said Col. Laub. "I don't believe in temporizing, either, nor do I believe in adopting a middle-of-the-road policy. We should all stand together and all fall together if we have to. The hotel men are talking of 'getting from under' by initiating an amendment that will exclude them alone from dry provisions. In this coming fight the hotel men, like every other branch of the liquor industry, will have to stand together."

Hand-Made Cluny Decorative Linens Below Regular Prices

Linens such as these are coming to this country in such small quantities that it will be impossible to match these.
Yet each piece in this sale is just as rare, just as beautiful as though we could replace it in every size. To a store, however, not being able to match patterns is a disadvantage and we'd rather have things we can be certain of getting again, than sizes.

So Down Go the Prices!

- 70-inch, $4.50, $5.00, $8.25.
- 74-inch, $7.50, $9.50, $10.25, $12.00.

Dancing and Dinner Gowns

"If you can sell such dresses as these at such prices, you'll have all Los Angeles coming here—"

That's exactly why we have them
—look at them!

Here is an orchid soiree reminding you of the styles of 1863—yet more charming—for there are no hoops—only the short waist, close fitting and finished with sleeves, and folds next the throat, of white lace sparkling with metal.
Instead of a straight hem at the bottom of the skirt, it falls like the petals of a flower, and is finished with three undulating quillings of the silk. Yet the price is only $39.75!

There are many styles of dinner dresses, but nearly all have transparent sleeves, some lace and at least a touch of fur.

Dancing frocks start at $19.75, made of tulle over satin—not tulle as it was used before, but tulle treated as one might treat Brussels lace—not fly-away but dignified in treatment, and utterly charming in result.

$19.75, $22, $25, $35, $39.75, up to $125.

Hallowe'en Novelties

Halloween is just around the corner and plans for parties are being pushed with vigor!

Here are a few of the fun-making novelties that will

- Illuminated Silhouettes, 10c box.
- Place Cards, 10c box of 6.
- Decorative Cut-outs, 10c box of 4.
- Large Cut Cut-outs, 2 for 5c.
- Witch and Moon, 2 for 5c.
- Dollies, 2 dozen for 10c.
- Small Plates, 25c a dozen.
- Large Plates, 35c a dozen.
- Napkins, 15 for 10c.
- Decorative Crepe Paper, 15c and 25c
a fold.
- Lunch Set, plate, dollies, napkins and table cloth, 50c set.
- Table Cloth, size 60x108, 25c each.
- Luster Crepe Paper, 15c each.

2000 Yards, Fine All-Wool Challies, at 39c

A good variety of styles in range of colors that should satisfy every woman who comes for this soft, warm, lightweight woolen fabric.

2000 yards is not more than enough for a good day's business—and as there are a good many styles, those who come first will have the broadest range of color and pattern from which to choose.

The Craze for Satins

Every woman with an eye to fashion, knows that the richest and most distinguished silk of season is satin.

Some of it is as soft and pliant as crepe de chine—but with a rich, soft, shimmering surface.

There is, probably, nowhere a richer variety than you will find here—running from the least costly to the richest possible in quality.

36-inch Duchesse Mousseline at $1.50.

This beautiful, lustrous satin in a splendid assortment of both street and evening shades.

- 40-Inch Satin Radiant at $2.00
- 40-Inch Satin Meteor, $2.50
- 42-Inch Mirror Satin, $3.50

These all come in a great variety of shades—and are surprising in their loveliness of quality.

Variety in Staple and Fashionable Serges

Take just one color—blue, and look at the thought and care that goes into this one staple, that has sprung to the front rank of fashion this season:

- French Serge, 48 inches wide, $1 a yard.
- Storm Serge, 47 inches wide, $1 a yard.
- Storm Serge, 50 inches wide, $1 a yard.
- French Serge, 50 inches wide, $1.25 a yard.
- Storm Serge, 50 inches wide, $1.25 a yard.
- French Serge, 54 inches wide, $1.50 a yard.
- Storm Serge, 50 inches wide, $1.50 a yard.
- Storm Serge, 58 inches wide, $1.75 a yard.
- French Serge, 56 inches wide, $2 a yard.
- and so on up to $3.50 a yard.

There are four distinct shades of dark-blue, this year, and all of them are good.

Navy blue, Corbeau—or ultra-marine—dark blue, and the shade known as "men's-wear" blue.

Hand Embroidered Crepe de Chine Waists $3.75 and $5.00

Not long ago we thought ourselves exceedingly fortunate to have the simplest sort of crepe de chine waists for $3.85.
Tomorrow we shall have a waist of better crepe de chine, embroidered by hand in an extremely good plain style, for $3.75!

At $5 there are waists of quite heavy crepe de chine, richly embroidered with black-and-white silk, and ornamented with novel agate buttons.

WINE AND AIR.
 October has started gloriously. In Southern California, where it is spring the whole year round—or is it summer?—a taste of autumn is a crystalline delight.

UNEXPECTED REWARD.
 If it should develop that a large body of oil exists in the vicinity of the Salton Sea, the fortunes developed therefrom would be a fitting reward for those who have withstood the hardships of the pioneer in that rich but trying locality.

NEITHER HOT NOR COLD.
 Senator Works speaks wisely when he states that the Wilson policy in Mexico neither interfered decisively nor kept hands off. It has simply messed things. In the words of Judge Taft, "It neither watched nor waited."

PROTECTING OUTLAWS.
 That amazing nonsense of indicting a sheriff in Texas for killing Gen. Orosco has been sensibly ended by the dismissal of these cases in the District Court. Mexican bandits can hardly complain at being caught.

FIRST GLIMMER.
 It seems that even the Progressives cannot join their self-intoxicated leader in the joy of committing party suicide. This normal resistance of an unnatural proposition is the first sign of health ever manifested by that sick organization.

FOR THE COUNTRY'S BENEFIT.
 Comes the good news that Schwab will develop a certain extensive deposit of manganese iron at Ludlow. Such departments of enterprise establish the sanctity of industrial trusts. Nothing short of organized capital can reach out into the hidden places of the great West to bring its deep treasures into the light.

JUST POSSIBLE.
 It would be funny if in the posse of United States marshals, peace officers and other officials who are on the trail of the West Virginia train robbers, it should happen that the robbers themselves participated. However, this is not in the least improbable. Organized society is perpetually giving chase to itself, and sometimes overtakes itself, without having any idea how to proceed upon capture.

IN EDWARD'S STEPS.
 It is reported that the young Prince of Wales was shot in the arm by a jealous French corporal, whose pretty young wife conducts an inn near Ypres. The Prince is a good boy, whose mamma compelled him to resign from a wicked student's club at Oxford, where they sang German drinking songs, with stunts in their hands. Just the same, the grandfather of the Prince would have enjoyed the romantic flavor of this incident at the British outpost. Unwritten history gives the late King Edward credit for some episodes of his own.

NO FAVORITES.
 Auto speeders cannot be placed above the law because they are too poor to pay the fines imposed for speeding or too respectable to be sent to jail. If they are too careless or too arrogant to obey laws imposed for the general safety, their own included, they must expect to take the consequences along with other law-breakers.

WE SUGGEST IN THE LESS FLAMMABLE MACHINE OF THE SPEEDER BE HELD BY THE CITY AS SECURITY TILL THE FINE HAS BEEN PAID; THIS WILL PROVE WHETHER THE PLEA OF POVERTY IS ONLY A BLIND. As for the reckless drunken joy-ride, he is not too respectable to be sent to jail, but our jails are, if anything, too respectable for him to be sent to. A drunken joy-ride is as despicable a sight as ever was seen in the common tank.

CONGRATULATIONS.
 The American public will be glad with President Wilson in his new happiness, as they sorrowed with him in his heavy loss and grief. The President is peculiarly what is known as a "family" man. Simple in his tastes, studious in habit, but little given to general society, he is dependent largely upon the associations and atmosphere of his own home for companionship and diversion. He has borne heavy burdens, personally, and for the nation, during his administration. And he has met them with a quiet dignity and a lack of self-consciousness that has won the admiration of the world. The woman whom he has chosen to share his life assumes no light responsibility. If she is able—as she seems happily qualified to be—to lighten the President's heavy hours, and help him meet the many obligations involved in his position, she will receive a warm welcome from the people of this country who, whatever their party or political bent, feel a deep personal interest in the welfare and happiness of the President. And we of California will gladly accord her honors due to the "first lady" of our land, should we have the opportunity.

Looks splendid for peace in the very near future. Germany says, "We shall fight until Britain is beaten," and Britain comes right back with the statement, "We shall never quit until Germany is vanquished." But nations, like men, have been known to change their minds.

THE KILL-PARTY PLOT.

California voters are called upon to decide at the special election on October 26 whether this State shall continue to be governed as are other American commonwealths, or shall surrender the right of legal party organization and place all political organizations that are inside the State outside the law.

If the proposed anti-party laws are approved, all party designations will be removed from ballots for State offices, both legislative and administrative. This embraces both national parties and parties that might be organized inside the State, as in Pennsylvania and other Eastern States, to deal with local conditions only.

It is not a question of permitting non-partisan nominations—that is provided for in the present law—it is not a question of separating State and national politics—the new law forbids the use of ANY PARTY DESIGNATION WHATEVER for State offices—but it is simply a question of forbidding electors to unite on a list of candidates and place the name of the combination or organization on the official ballot.

The anti-party law is a harking back to the policies adopted by the Commune of Paris under Robespierre when all organization of voters against the republic was declared treason. That nonpartisan nominations are farcical of themselves and cannot stand against organization, even under national party lines, is evidenced by the fact that a nonpartisan nominee has never been elected in a State election when the electors were given the alternative of voting for other candidates endorsed by some strong party organization. Nonpartisan nominations may be successful in small communities where the candidates are well known; but when they reach the open sea of State-wide elections, then the great mass of the voters desire to know for what a man or woman stands and who the sponsors are. In politics, as in business, the endorsements mean equally even more than the signature of the maker of the note. Some party or organization, having some credit, should sift the would-be candidates!

Proponents of the anti-party laws use the surprising argument that endorsements impair the value of the contract. Constitutional lawyers assert that the proposed anti-party laws are unconstitutional, as they withdraw from the candidate the right granted to him in the Constitution to secure a party nomination. Its advocates assert that this constitutional provision is complied with when a candidate for Federal office still retains that right.

A question arises as to the sincerity of the administration professions that the sole purpose of the anti-party bills is to separate State and national politics when one recalls that an amendment was proposed from the floor of the Assembly to permit the organization of parties for participation in State politics only, and that it was voted down by the solid Johnson following.

Political parties can no more be abolished by legislative decree, with legality, than can religious or fraternal organizations. The only thing the State can do is to put them outside the law. They are simply placed in the position of the theatrical manager who was informed that the ordinances of a certain city forbade chorus girls to appear in tight. "I don't like to encourage it," he said, "and the girls don't like to do it. But if it's the law they'll have to appear without them."

Placing State political organizations outside the law seems just what the Johnson administration desires. The organization of office-holders now in power controls directly more than 6000 appointive positions. Through its forty-odd "commissions" the State government reaches into every section of the State. This organization becomes more powerful as measures are adopted to prevent any general organization of the opposition. The State machine will still endorse a list of candidates. It will send that list under the seal of a 3-cent stamp to every registered voter in the State, just as it has done at every election for the last four years. The elector will be admonished to take the enclosed list to the polls with him and to "vote only for those on your list." But the expense of that sealed circular to cover the State is $50,000. That is not much for an organization that controls a pay roll of $8,000,000 a year; the contributions come easily. But for the unorganized opposition to raise such a sum is a practicable impossibility.

These identical conditions existed in a number of Eastern States forty years ago. The present laws legalizing political parties inside the State and giving them places on official ballots were passed to stifle the patronage abuse. To abolish this law is to execute a retrograde movement that will place us forty years behind the rest of the country. This in itself is a matter of grave consideration for California electors. We have not yet forgotten the blight that Populism cast upon Kansas; it was worse than the succession of crop failures. And the worst of it was that the name Kansas became a byword for legislative astuteness all over the country. It is only within the last six years that Kansas has recovered. For years home-seekers and investors gave the State a wide berth. California is now confronted by a similar situation, the so-called Johnson policies have been rejected by all the Eastern States, both in legislative assemblies and constitutional conventions. To pursue them farther is simply to make of our State a laughing stock for the rest of the country.

HYPHENATED AMERICANS.

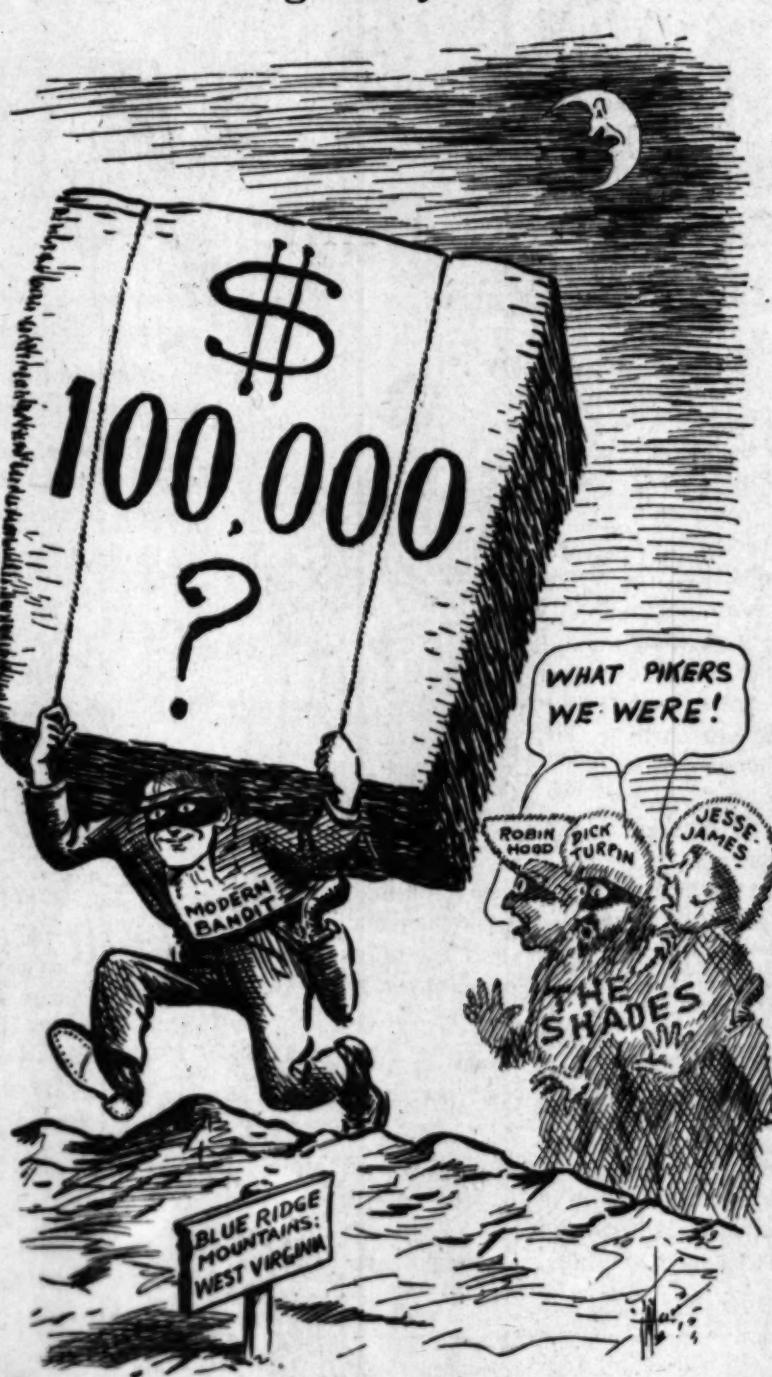

It is not to be expected that a foreign-born man will not wish for success in the pending European contest to the country on whose soil he was born.

"Where is the man with soul so dead,
 Who never to himself hath said—
 'This is my own, my native land?'"

But if he has forsworn allegiance to that native land in order to obtain American citizenship he will, if he is an honest man, respect the obligations of that oath, and not attempt to be a German-American, or a British-American, or a French-American, or a Russian-American, or an Italian-American, or an Austro-Hungarian-American. For citizenship in its obligations to the nation can never be dual. It is a political ultimate atom and indivisible. This matter was threshed out on the battlefields of the Civil War so far as native Americans were concerned, when questions of State sovereignty against Federal sovereignty were discussed and State sovereignty disappeared very soon, even as a term.

No man can serve two masters. Dual allegiance, dual loyalty, dual citizenship are "things repugnant to the simple-minded and the true."

It is to be regretted that many naturalized American citizens have attempted, not hyphenated Americanism, but an utter disregard of the obligations of their Americanism. For the last year after ship has departed from our ports loaded with men responding to the military service call of other nations. This response has not been limited to foreign-born men who were naturalized. Tens of thousands of naturalized Germans, and Britishers, and Austrians, and Russians, and Frenchmen have gone, in utter disregard of their voluntary oaths of renunciation of allegiance to the government of their native country, on the strength of which renunciation they were granted American citizenship.

Others who have remained here and claimed the privileges of their American citizenship have responded in one way and another to orders from the governments they have renounced, and have placed themselves in close communication with the consulates of their governments.

An eastern exchange, dealing editorially with this subject, says: "Within the last few weeks circumstances have combined to bring the people of the United States around sharply to sober and serious contemplation of what might be termed the nation's personnel. They have found other nations issuing orders to their fellow-citizens of alien nativity, and they have found these fellow-citizens, in thousands of instances, responding with alacrity to those orders. They have found Ambassadors dictating to United States residents and citizens the lines upon which they should shape their conduct toward the United States and its industries. They have become cognizant of threats, open and covert, made against residents and citizens of the United States by the governments whose authority they had long since abjured. They have had it borne in upon them in a variety of ways that, under the present system of receiving immigrants and granting citizenship, the United States, in reality, has no control over the hordes that under normal conditions scramble through the immigration station gates as heedless of the hospitality it tended to them as they are of the obligations that go with it."

These acts of hyphenated Americans are an infraction of the duty of neutrality due by this country and all of its citizens to the European belligerents. Naturalized foreigners who leave this country to enter the army of their native land violate the oath on the strength of which they obtained their naturalization papers, and their certificates of naturalization should be canceled, for their action was incompatible with their duties as American citizens. They involved conditions, adjustments and compromises that have nothing to do with frank, free and unquestioning devotion to our country and our flag.

When the European war shall close, an immense number of discharged soldiers from both armies will seek our shores. It is only just to our own people that Congress prescribe the terms upon which they should enter our country and on what terms they should be suffered to acquire citizenship. Certainly we ought not to add to the number of "hyphenated Americans."

The advance guards of the Austro-Germans who crossed the Danube at Belgrade, met with the reception Tom Corwin once said Americans ought to have invading Mexico. They were "welcomed with bloody hands to hospitable graves."

PRESIDENT WILSON'S TARIFF PROBLEM.

(CONTRIBUTED TO THE TIMES)

BY ALBA B. JOHNSON.

WHILE the trade conditions which follow the close of the war cannot be clearly foreseen, many fear that the return to productive industry of the millions of soldiers now under arms will cause our own manufacturers to suffer from the dumping of European goods upon our market, and that against it, under the operation of the existing tariff, we will be helpless. These forebodings may be unfounded; nevertheless, the true method of meeting such a condition would be by the application of the remedies provided by our existing laws as construed by a tariff commission, rather than by the enactment of new laws or regulations, the ultimate effects of which could not be foreseen.

The conditions which would beset our commerce from such dumping would be in nowise different from the ordinary conditions of competition, excepting that they would be exaggerated. Inasmuch as the attack upon industries, which this dumping involves, is—except in degree—essentially the same as the normal competition to which we are subject, the remedy should be the same, namely, tariff regulation. If a body of trained experts, such as should constitute a tariff commission, were in existence to deal with the future problem, its solution should be largely simplified and expedited.

The tariff is conspicuously a complex and everchanging subject which vitally affects every branch of both our internal and our foreign business. Our domestic business is vitally affected by the tariff schedules established by ourselves; our foreign business is equally affected by the tariff schedules adopted by other nations. Tariff rates constitute a ready weapon of offense and defense in international trade warfare.

A little consideration of the matter must satisfy anyone that the tariff presents a problem too complex to be dealt with in any general law adopted at infrequent intervals by Congress, but that, on the contrary, our tariff regulations should be ever changing to meet the business conditions which govern our manufacturers and exporters at home and whose tariff regulations which, abroad, are applied to our exports.

During the past ten years there has been a growing conviction throughout the country that the tariff can never be adequately dealt with so long as it remains subject solely to the initiative and control of Congress. The National Association of Manufacturers, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and many commercial organizations throughout the country have declared themselves in favor of the tariff commission principle. Such a commission should ascertain the selling prices of similar goods at home and abroad, with the view of affording adequate protection to American industry; and it should not concern itself with the costs of manufacture.

There is no such thing as a fixed universal cost for any article either at home or abroad. At home costs vary largely in competing works representing the same industry. Abroad like varying conditions exist, and furthermore, the costs differ largely in different countries. Therefore, to attempt to ascertain the cost at home and abroad for any commodity brings about no useful result. Duties must eventually be determined wholly upon the basis of indifference in selling prices.

Congress will never relinquish its constitutional right of dealing finally with tariff legislation, and ought not to do so. The work of the tariff commission must, then, consist of some such functions as these: To ascertain which industries may legitimately be classed as "infant industries" and still require tariff protection. Thus, the manufacture of dyestuffs, hitherto highly developed in Germany alone, is an infant industry in America, one that will require continued protection after the close of the current war.

To study the commercial effects of the tariff in order to so adjust tariff schedules as to promote, and not discourage, our export trade.

To study also the effect of the free list upon American commerce and to ensure that reciprocal advantages are given to us by those nations benefiting from it.

To determine the application of maximum and minimum rates, so as to ensure the greatest possible reciprocal advantages for American export trade.

To suggest to Congress from time to time the general legislation necessary for the accomplishment of these purposes, Congress enacting into law the general principles involved while the application of the principles in detail becomes the duty of the commission.

The proposal resolves itself into the replacing of a large and unwieldy body of men, at best, are only adventitious experts, with a small body composed of men selected on account of their previous training as practical experts. The opinion of the country, in approval of the change, has been continually developing and solidifying during the past ten years.

RIPLING RHYMES.

THE EXPATRIATES.

Your own country you've renounced, Henry James; it with language you have trounced, Henry James; you have handed out a slam to your good old Uncle Sam, and we do not care a pip about you, Henry James. You and old Jack Johnson, both, Henry James, swore a great and mighty oath, Henry James, to abjure your native land; it was ostracized and banned, by the pair of you, self-canned, Henry James. It is said, and yet a joke, Henry James, that the Author and the Smoke, Henry James, should line up on foreign shores, there to shut and bolt the doors—what a brace of two-by-fours, Henry James! We have lost our Hank and Jack, Henry James, and we hope you won't come back, Henry James; you have snubbed us pretty hard, soaked us one beneath the guard, and we turn you down, old pard, Henry James. You and Johnson may abide, Henry Jim, far across the raging tide, Henry Jim, roaming Europe hand in hand, while this desolated land goes ahead to beat the band, Henry Jim!

WALT MASON.

Snake Expert Angler.

[Seattle Post-Intelligencer.] That some snakes can catch fish as well as old anglers was demonstrated Sunday on the ranch of E. D. Osborne of Huson.

A small spring creek runs through the pasture on the Osborne ranch, large enough for fish to play in. Here a large water snake was seen to grab a rainbow trout by the head and make for the tall grass. Osborne killed the snake and threw the live fish back into the pool. The fish was about twelve inches in length.

Overheard in the Garment Dept. Monday

—Two women chatted while a third was having her suit fitted and this is what they said:
—“Would you believe she could have gotten a suit so good looking and for so little? I tell you this store has won me over. I'm coming here to do more of my shopping from now on.
—“I don't know of a place where you can get such pretty things at such moderate prices, and I want to tell you they have the good things, too. Only last week I went up and down the street looking for tapestry for some draperies and I afterwards found that I could have secured the merchandise I wanted here at $2.50 a yard. I paid much more for it.”
—Her friend replied, “Yes, this store is a revelation to me. I didn't know they carried such splendid merchandise at such moderate prices.”

Cotton Industry.

growing. Almost all the growers in the valley are cotton men who have gone there from Texas and other Southern States.

FINE MARKET CONDITIONS.

Hardly one of them but did not feel the pinch when the war dropped the bottom out of the market. With the maximum acreage in the valley's history they had anticipated good prices but when picking time came the market was at its lowest ebb, and as the winter drew along 8 to 7 1/2 cents were the prevailing quotations in the valley. Cotton men now say the prices remained low rather because of the failure of a large New York firm whose interest in the market had been merely speculative and the immediate closing thereafter of the cotton exchange, than because of an overabundance. Despite the fact that the American crop last year amounted to 16,000,000 bales but a small surplus was carried over. Against this figure an estimate for the current crop of 11,000,000 bales was made by the government in September. Besides a greatly decreased acreage, the ravages of the boll weevil have been felt heavily in Texas and other States, even Georgia. Some damage to the crop resulted also from the Galveston storm and the more recent one in Louisiana. With a curtailed crop and abnormal consumption by ammunition makers here and abroad, some cotton men in the valley see 15-cent possibilities. However, 11 to 13 cents is a price which satisfies the cautious growers and although the first picking has served to settle the obligations of most of them, there is no evidence of an inclination to hold their product against a rise in the market.

With the coming back into its own of cotton, second staple of the world, a rejuvenating touch has been felt in all lines of business in the valley. In California, to which 75 per cent. of the cotton land is tributary, announcement is made that P. E. Carr, Ed. Dool, A. Mosk, M. Harris, the Imperial Valley Hardware Company and Wheat brothers will each rear a substantial business building within sixty days. But, of course the greatest change is in the condition of the growers themselves.

PROSPECTS SPLENDID.

T. M. Berry, who has been growing cotton thirty years, will tell one that the war rendered each other in the valley markets: Jake Arnold, Chinese mill; J. S. Miller, Eldredge Cotton Company; the Japan Cotton Company; the Imperial Valley Cotton Company; R. E. Hoffman, Kentworthy, Minopio and Company; Liverpool; R. E. Rush-ton and Boy; Leftwich, British-American Mercantile Company; A. P. Suggs, Suggs Bros. & Baker, open market; E. C. Stevens, H. Kemper and Helms; Taylor Cotton Company, Galveston and Oakland mills; George Anthonitz for Daley Bros., brokers; Wallace J. Farge, H. & Newman, New Orleans; White & Hall, Alexandria, Egypt; Co. Liverpool and American Yarn Agency, John C. Dickey, Jr., Japan Cotton Company; L. C. Ogden, independent; Planters' Cotton Company, independent; Imperial Valley Cotton Growers' Association.

COMPETITION KEEN.

The competition in some cases has run to the price up many points, as evidenced in a sale by George Belch at Calexico. Although word has just been received that the New Orleans market is dropping 10 points, and 11 1/2 cents, his cotton sold for 12 1/2 cents. The Liverpool buying is pronounced and the most of this cotton will go through Los Angeles Harbor.

Lott T. Wel, representative of a Chinese trade commission, recently investigated the cotton situation in the valley and industry and shipments to that country would be increased. Jake Arnold, for whose father the cotton town of Arnold, Miss., was named, estimates that 50 per cent. of the valley's crop will go across the Pacific this year.

T. J. West of the Calexico Compress Company makes the point that the cotton which is shipped by the water from here will give the Imperial Valley product an individuality and if the fiber has superior spinning qualities, that fact will soon become known. Until last year it was shipped through Galveston or New Orleans and consequently bore the names of those towns.

The newest cotton land in the valley is that about Calipatria and Niland.

A deal has been consummated whereby 10,000 acres will be in cotton next year. Below the line, Peter Barnes has surveyed out running lines preparatory to digging a high-line canal above 3000 acres of desert land at the south of the Mt. Signal district, and these next year will be in cotton. Following are the plantings in Baja California this year: Daley Bros., Brooks, 1000 acres; M. J. Uon, 430; K. Shintana, 600; Madokora Bros. and Sato, 900; Casey Abbott, at Copah, 2400; at Palaco, 1000; O. E. Campbell, 1400; Miller & Pulliam, 450; Quong Wing, 500; William Brandenburg, 300; Roy Gilson, 200; Go Hing, 400; Erskine & Curtis, 600; Lynch, Finn & Quinn, 200; Batacos Big Four Company, 200; Cudahy ranch, T. P. Daley, manager, 2200; J. R. Lory, 600; George A. Davis, 2400; Edwards brothers, 1500; E. F. King, 150; D. H. Emison, 600; J. S. Hoffman, 600; Carter & Carter, 300; Robert Burns, Jr., 350; Remy & Hultz, 550; Lee Little, 300; T. M. Berry, 700; Daley & Brooks, 300; Suggs, Baker & Company, 1700; Peter Hottel, 600; Dunn & Zika, 700; B. F. McDonald, 1500; John H. Owen, 250; E. D. Gibson, 150; Chinese cotton, 250.

MANY AUTOS MISSING.

One Hundred and Twenty-five of Cars Stolen Since First of Year Yet Unrecovered.

One hundred and twenty-five automobiles stolen in this city since the first of the year are still unrecovered and the Chief of Police yesterday issued instructions to the Detective Bureau to make an especial effort to locate them.

While some of the machines are believed to have been taken to other States it is the opinion of the police that practically all of them are in the city or vicinity and possibly appear on the streets every day.

Yesterday reports were made of the theft of five automobiles, which is about the average number of complaints received daily.

long variety. The Cudahy ranch, managed by T. P. Daley, has 2100 acres in long this year and H. S. Casey's Abbott, superintendent of the Cocaph plantation, owned by an English syndicate, announces that he will increase from 3400 acres to 3600 with the majority in long staple.

Durango is an adaptation from Mexico and was introduced by government men. W. S. Wilson, who placed it was first tried out, says its chief characteristic is uniformity of fiber, making it particularly desirable for yarn-making purposes. It is a variation produces unevenness. The American Yarn Agency has had officials in the valley and has buyers there now. Although slightly more seed cotton is necessary to produce a bale of lint than the short staple, Durango commands a premium of about 4 to 5 cents over the shorter staple. Some time ago the First National Bank at Seeley made public an announcement that it would favor loans on Durango over those on short.

At Calexico two gins have been installed to handle the longer staple. HARVEST METHODS.

Picking on the American side is done mostly by "Mexican boys," though Mexicans and negroes are used. It is not an unusual sight to see pickaninies playing in the mountains of cotton, and Los Angeles moving-picture concerns frequently go to the valley for southern plantation scenes. In the Baja California, the picking is done by Chinese coolies.

There is no export duty and Gov. Cantu, realizing the importance of the industry, co-operates with the growers whenever possible. One firm, Coates & Williams of San Francisco, has 100 mules and thirty wagons at Calexico to haul the cotton to the gins. Two wagons, having corrugated sheet-iron sides as a fire precaution, and a capacity of five bales each, are joined and hauled to town by a team of ten mules.

The little has twenty-six wagons in the same service. At the gins the lint is separated from the seed and utilization of the by-products is like the pie-making house in the Northwest to feed sheep and cattle. The hulls are sold for stock fattening purposes. The ginning costs $4.50 a bale but the gins will pay $5 for the seed.

The competition in some cases has run to the price up many points,

There are fur trimmed suits, Norfolk and plain tailored models and some novelty suits in the collection. Materials include all-wool poplin, gabardines, serges, broadcloths and fancy suitings. There are Junior sizes—13, 15 and 17. Misses' sizes—14, 16 and 18. And women's sizes from 34 to 44 bust. First choosing will be best. Choice of the entire 300 suits—$15.00.

Suits of Rich Broadcloth $19.50

Nearly one hundred stunning new models in rich broadcloth suits. Box styles, belted styles, novelty models and tailored styles. Many of them trimmed with fine fur. Others with row after row of silk braid and velvet. Some of the snappiest suits of the season. Sizes 34 to 44 bust measure. Real $25.00 values. On sale at $19.50.

Suits for Large Women $19.50 43 to 53 Bust Measure

Here's another piece of good news for women who require extra size suits. We've just unpacked about one hundred new suits made especially for large women—43, 45, 47, 49, 51 and 53-inch bust measure. Smartly tailored models especially designed for women requiring the above sizes. The coats are cut roomy, but not baggy. The armholes are full and the sleeves are comfortable. The skirts are ample large where width is demanded. Materials are fine all wool poplins, serges and gabardines in black, navy, dark brown and gray. No matter how large you are, we can fit you as we pay special attention to fitting women of large proportions. Great big $25.00 suits on sale at $19.50.

FANTASY TO REOPEN HOUSE.

Little Theater Company to Offer "Snow White."

"Under Cover," with Frances Ring at Burbank.

Valeska Suratt to be Seen at the Orpheum.

The Little Theater will reopen tomorrow night, with Blanche Hall in "Snow White," the delightful fantasy which captured New York. Miss Hall

St. Leon and other favorites have leading roles.

Morocco. The fourth big week of Blanche Ring in that gloom-chasing show, "Nobody Home," will open at the Morocco with tonight's performance.

New dances and songs have been added, and new costumes and pretty girls are not the least of the attractions of the piece.

The cast now contains, besides the star, Charles Winniger, Ida van Tine, Lillian Wiggins, Earl Fox, Ethel Tannehill, Thomas Rector, Hazel Allen, Allyn Lewis, Bert Wesner, Jack Polard and Casson Ferguson.

Mason. "Potash and Perlmutter" will return to the Mason, October 18, after a year's absence.

Everybody who knows and loves the Montague Glass characters—and who does not?—will welcome the partners back to Los Angeles. There is a thread of delightful plot and a charming love story in the play, but it, of course, depends chiefly on its types for success.

The lovable old partners, with their mixture of sentiment and commercial-

Washington and Alaska since she was 13 years of age. Up to the theater there rode in brilliant red uniform a mounted police agent, who bore a silver salver, upon which lay, in many depths of tissue paper, a small red rose. This was the first rose to have bloomed in Alaska that year. It was from the garden of the Commissioner of the Territory, and it was with his compliments that the crimson beauty was delivered.

Over the footlights it came, at the second act, and after the performance the entire audience waited for a small of that rose which each in turn enjoyed.

That, if you please, is the triumph of art. Yes, and don't you think it was a rare conjuring of art and nature?

Somehow I have a great joy in this incident. Whenever I see orchids and hothouse roses going across the footlights of one of our sumptuous stages I have a habit of shutting my eyes and seeing one red blossom out of the white bosom of a winter land.

Then I see no after theater supper, with wilting orchids at the corners of a weary leading lady, but a bright faced girl, with cheeks like the Ben Davis apple, with eyes like the blue Kentucky skies that canopied her happy mother's childhood, and an audience in furs and skins and overcoats, waiting to shake hands and breathe a little of the incense of Alaska's first blossom of the summer.

All of Marjorie Rambeau is like

LOCAL STAGE'S BRIGHT FLOWER.

Crimson Blossom and Snow of Yosemite Springtime Suggested in Histrionic Art of Marjorie Rambeau, Los Angeles' Best Loved Leading Woman, Who Combines Fire and Reserve in Happy Fashion.

BY HENRY CHRISTEEN WARNACK

IN THE Yosemite there is a slender waterfall called the Widow's Tear. Like a mist of silver it appears with the early spring and lasts until the season has grown into its prime. On the day it first throws its white spray in the face of young April there comes through the melting snow that crimson mountain fay, the snow blossom. Somehow these events of nature's waxing year always remind me of Marjorie Rambeau. The snow and the flame, in the shape of the flower—she has the quality of the one and the color of the other, and it is the delicate intermingling of the two, it was a great favorite with Los Angeles audiences some years ago and they will be glad to welcome her back in the pretty little playhouse.

Director Granville Forbes, who was responsible for the artistic presentation of "Snow White" in New York, will also appear in the play here, taking the part of Berthold. The production promises to be a beautiful one, well adapted to the intimate dimensions of the theater. A stringed orchestra, with Theodore Gordon conducting, will interpret the elaborate musical score, which accompanies the fantastic story, told in the play.

Tea is to be served between acts by pretty Japanese maids. Altogether the opening of the Little Theater promises to be in every way a success.

Burbank. Frances Ring, an actress who is a favorite with Los Angeles audiences, will begin her starring engagement at the Burbank this afternoon in "Under Cover," Roi Cooper Megrue's New York success.

Miss Ring has a role in the new piece which makes great demands on her dramatic and emotional talents, and she promises to fill the role admirably.

The story, a thrilling one, has to do with the theft of a diamond necklace and the tracing of the thief. There is a surprise finish. "Under Cover" was one of the first New York plays to leave behind the old tradition that the audience must not be kept in the dark as to the real nature of the characters on the stage. There is much delightful comedy, as well as dramatic suspense.

Superba. Julia Dean, the well-known Broadway star, and Harry Carey, a great film favorite, will be seen in "Judge Not," a picture dealing with the double standard of morality as between the sexes, at the Superba this week, beginning Monday.

The story has a strong psychological cast and is thrilling. Miss Dean is said to do some of her best work in this picture.

SOCIETY.

bridal party standing before a fern-made altar. The date, which had been kept secret, was revealed by the ring bearer, which was announced by little Robert Thomas.

Those present at the delightful affair were: Ruth Hart, Vera Hart, Ella Lee Herbert, Phoebe Herbert, Ruth Savage, Sadie Taylor, Beulah O'Connell, Isabella Douglas, Lillian Canham, Esther Keppel, Bernice Tibbena, Helen Hargis, Anita Venable, Marie Stanley, Bertha Owens, Virginia Judge, Vera Morrow, Vera Wilson, Esther Gleason, Eva Paulk, Lillian Shattuck, Beatrice Holdridge, Dorothy Adams, Fannie Mitchell, Louise Royer, Mrs. R. L. Webb, Mrs. J. K. Williams, Mrs. E. R. Rickenberg, Mrs. E. D. Cline, Mrs. W. C. Thomas and Mrs. C. L. Holleman.

Afternoon Bridge.

Mrs. Blanche B. Burmeister of No. 2225 Fifth avenue will entertain at afternoon bridge Tuesday afternoon in honor of her cousin, Mrs. James N. Noel, of Indianapolis.

Society Tea.

The Los Angeles Country Club was the scene recently of a gathering of college women when members of the Phi Mu Sorority of the University of California and their friends convened. Mrs. Harry Ford, Mrs. Andrew J. Copp, Jr., and Mrs. E. S. Rowley assisted the hostesses and chaperoned the affair. The guests were later entertained at dinner at the clubhouse.

Men of the university were bidden for the evening. The hostesses included Mrs. H. B. Davis, Mrs. E. Maynard Harrison and the Misses Stella Andrews, Lila Burton, Cecelia Beets, Eleanor Davis, Esther Hanning, Althea Hendrickson, Joyce Langston, Jeannette Nelson, Eileen O'Neill, Ebyl Proctor, Nellie Skelton, Jessie Tabor, Grace Weaver, Gladys Wadsworth and Frances Zerell.

Shower Bride-elect.

A miscellaneous shower for Miss Stella Gonzalez, who will next month marry Jerome Thomas Conner, was held recently at the home of Miss Vantia Weller, No. 922 West Thirtieth street. The luncheon table was decorated with baskets of pink roses and pink tulle. Dainty tulle rice bags tied with ribbons were given as favors. The guests included the Misses Rose Connor, Leona Backer, Katherine Cook, Bebe Daniels, Laura, Amelia and Mary Peralta, Carol Botsford, Golda Cogswell, Florence Johnson, Tillie Carston, Mrs. George Coburn and Mrs. T. J. Mollie.

Welcome Home.

Miss Kate Moss, who recently returned from an extended visit with relatives at Kansas City, was the guest of honor at a gathering of the Sigma Gamma Sorority this week. The evening was spent in dancing. About thirty guests attended. Those present included Misses Leah Hiale, Elizabeth Cramer, Rose Hain, Rose L. Samuelson, Estelle Rosenberg, Eva Levitt, Frances Herzberg, Meriam Triester, Tillie Grana, Alice Goldfarb, John Robinson, Ben Cohn, Jack Atkins, A. F. Perleis, Benn Levitt, Alexander Cohen.

Formal Opening.

Invitations have been issued for the formal opening of the season at The Kendis, to be held Saturday, November 6.

For Bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spencer Mann entertained at a family dinner party Tuesday evening in honor of the latter's cousin, Mrs. Charles Oscar Manspeaker, and husband of No. 7315 Sunset boulevard, Hollywood. Mrs. Manspeaker was Miss Bracia Boynton, a bride of the summer. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Maginnis, Miss Nella Mann and Don Porter.

Observe Birthday.

In honor of the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Edward Adelsack, a number of her friends gathered Thursday evening at the Owen apartments, No. 1355 Orange street. Mrs. Adelsack was the recipient of many tokens of esteem. After five hundred, dinner was served. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Sprake, Misses Ruth and Mina Hill, Mrs. H. E. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Barry, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Reed, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Johnson, Mrs. H. L. Shaw, Mrs. Ada Adelsack, Miss Alice Usrey, Raymond Brown, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Adelsack.

Bridge Luncheon.

Members of a card club assembled Thursday at the home of Mrs. J. Herman Aagaard. Those attending were Mrs. Jack Duden of Ocean Park, Mrs. Horace Despres, Miss Bertha Despres, Mrs. A. L. King, Mrs. Robert Kimie, Mrs. Ray Hopkins and Mrs. Tracy Shoults.

September Wedding.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Anna Josephine Coyle, a native daughter, and James M. Arnold of Vancouver, B. C., Sunday, September 26. Father Dillon, rector of St. Cecilia's Church, officiated. A reception followed at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Mary Coyle, No. 449 West Fifth street. About seventy-five guests attended. The couple left immediately for Chicago, where Mr. Arnold is engaged in business. The bride was attired in soft blue tulle, trimmed with gold lace. Her bridal bouquet was of white roses and lilies of the valley in shower effect.

Reunion After Many Years.

A separation that lasted forty-seven years was happily ended last Tuesday when Mrs. J. F. Hecht of Denver, widow of a wealthy pioneer stockman, arrived here to visit her brother, Martin Wetzel, No. 2114 Pasadena avenue, a railroad man of the early days, who has lived here since 1867. With Mrs. Hecht is her daughter, Mrs. Annie Ralston, who conducts a sanatorium near Denver. They will see both expositions and remain here at least for the winter.

Mrs. Stephens's Theater Party.

Mrs. William D. Stephens, who with her husband, the Congressman, has been enjoying Hermosa Beach and Los Angeles since their return from Honolulu and who will enter prominently into the social life of the southland until their return to Washington, D. C., sometime in November, has a very charming house guest in the person of Mrs. James C. Needham, of San Diego, wife of the former Congressman, who became an intimate friend of the Stephens when they first went to the national capital.

In compliance to Mrs. Needham, a pretty social courtesy was extended yesterday afternoon, when Mrs. Stephens entertained a theater party at the Morisco matinee, others bidden being members of the Neighborhood Card Club, who number in their personnel Mrs. Erasmus Wilson, Mrs. William Rhodes Hervey, Mrs. Wil-

The Stephens family, occupying their handsome home on No. 1103 West Twenty-seventh street, where this accomplished matron may add, in the near future, several events to the society calendar, having in the planning a luncheon which she may contribute shortly.

Won to Our Southland.
Mr. and Mrs. Frank McConnell have come from Indiana to visit the former's brother's family, the W. D.
McConnells of No. 1439 Gower street, Hollywood. Much time since their arrival has been spent in motoring, and they are completely won to the beauties of our southland.

Sailing the Seas.
Commodore and Mrs. Alex J.
Mitchell are entertaining guests today on their palatial yacht, the Yankee Girl, incidental to the South Coast Yacht races, having invited Mr. and Mrs. Leo V. Youngworth, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Eilen, Mrs. Dorothy Johnston and several out of town gentlemen for a cruise on the opulent waters of the Pacific. They are motoring out to the harbor early this morning to spend the day.

A Welcome Extended.
In honor of Mrs. Willard Sperry, who has just come with her family from the north to establish a residence in Los Angeles, Mrs. Sperry have taken a house at No. 1704 Crenshaw boulevard, Miss Julia Tubbs was a luncheon hostess yesterday, at her home, No. 4112 West Sixteenth street.
Both the hostess and honoree are members of the Stanford Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority and those biden were also sisters of the well-known society, numbering Miss Marie Lindsay, Mrs. Arthur M. Hadley, Miss
Jessie Robertson and Mrs. Clark
Keeler.

Wooing Neptune.
A congenial party of friends was lavishly entertained by the George H.
Rector on his yacht, the Yola last Sunday, with the sea monody a luring accompaniment to a smooth ocean and breezes toned by the warming rays of Old Sol. Francis Peterson, a native of New York, operatic tenor, who has been summering in Los Angeles and is soon to depart for the East to pursue further his musical career, were leaving for Florence, Italy, was special guest of honor, augmented by Mr. and Mrs. Mike Levee and the latter's mother, who has lived in Los Angeles a couple of years ago; Mrs. J. Ward Bright, of St. Louis; Mrs. Laurette J.
Hill, of Philadelphia; Miss Aradene Schad, Miss Griegerson and Miss Lillian Griegerson of Chicago, who were with the Rectors in the Orient; Miss Dobkins, Mrs. Johnston and Messrs.
A. Shay, Otto Wuerker, Henry Sullivan, Ralph Deming and Richard Williams of Arizona, John Edwin Baxter, Miss Wilhelmina Rector and the hostess. Luncheon was taken along, the party going to shore for a merry picnic at noon, later sailing to Long Beach and other interesting points.

Large Bridge Party.
Fully two hundred guests enjoyed an auction bridge party last night as guests of Mrs. A. P. Kendle, No. 1710 West Sixth street, who utilized the spacious billiard room of the Kendle for cards and later the ballroom for an impromptu musical and vaudeville —truly Bohemian—followed by an elaborate Dutch lunch. Hugh Allen, Thomas Allen Rector and several stars of the "Nobody Works, Henry Sullivan added enjoyment by contributing to the affair with their talent. A profusion of American Beauty roses and stately chrysanthemums adorned the rooms, and the function was stamped by its handsomely gowned women and perfect appointments.

Pleasant Happening.
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carleton Lee, who have just returned from a third trip to the Jewel City, entertained friends at a theater party at the Morocco last evening, following a dinner at the Michael J. Connell home. Later supper was enjoyed at a downtown cafe. The personnel numbered Mr. and Mrs. Connell, Mr. and Mrs. Wil-ham S. Hook, Mr. and Mrs. St. Clair Chandler, Mr. and Mrs. Sydney
I. Wallis, Charles Seyler, Jr., and William Kay Crawford and the Lees.

Returned from Boston.
Mrs. George Jess and little son, Stoddard, Jr., have just returned from Boston and the East, where they visited for three months with relatives and friends, and are receiving a genuinely warm welcome in the Stoddard Jess home, No. 2133 Harvard boulevard. Mr. Jess did not accompany his wife and son, having remained with his parents meanwhile.

Mrs. Ranger Hostess.
Among the younger matrons who frequently delight their friends with various happy functions is Mrs. Fran-B. Ranger of No. 621 South Oxford avenue, who had guests in most informally on Friday evening for cards and dancing. Autumn flowers decked the room, and splendid music was enjoyed. Supper was served at midnight. Mrs. Ranger will give many such affairs this fall.

For Friday.
A small coterie of intimates have been bidden by Mrs. George F. Ross, No. 2153 West Twenty-first street, to enjoy her hospitality on Friday afternoon.

For an October Bride-elect.
At her home on 143 Rosemont avenue, Mrs. O. K. Johnson gave an unusually pretty tea yesterday afternoon in compliment to Miss Reba Hayden, who is to be an October bride. Autumn leaves and yellow flowers constituted artistic decorations for the event. As the guests were grouped in conversation over the tea cups, the interesting news of the honoree's approaching marriage to Phillip Mason of San Diego was told, which furnished the cause for interest and hearty felicitations.

ITCHING ECZEMA ON FACE AS RASH

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"My eczema first began as a rash on my face, and then extended to my chest. It caused my face and chest to be very sore and it also caused disfigurement for the time being, also itching, burning and loss of sleep. The skin was red and inflamed and I irritated the affected parts by scratching. My clothing also aggravated the breaking out on my body.

"The trouble lasted about three months and I used many remedies but found Cuticura Soap and Ointment brought about relief while the other remedies seemed to have no effect. I bathed the affected parts with Cuticura Soap and afterward applied the Ointment. Within a few days they afforded relief and within two weeks I was completely healed." (Signed) Orwell Notes Hill, 2198 Turk St., San Francisco, Cal., March 30, 1918.

Rheumatism

A Home Cure Given by One Who Had It.

In the spring of 1933 I was attacked by Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who have it know for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, and doctor after doctor, but was failed and I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bedridden with Rheumatism, and it effected a cure in every case.

I was every sufferer from any form of rheumatic trouble to try this marvelous healing power. Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long-looked-for means of curing your Rheumatism, you may send the price of it, one dollar, but, understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it, isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer when positive relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write today. Mark H. Jackson, 370 B. Gurney Building, Syracuse, N. Y.

Sloping Shoulders and Sleeves

Conform to the shoulders without wrinkling under arms.

Perfect Shoulder Stay

Keeps garment from stretching across the shoulder, and holds sleeve in place.

Curved Armhole

Brings arm seams to the natural curve of the shoulder and holds garment snugly and smoothly up under arm, doing away with unnecessary cloth.

Three-Cornered Gusset

Is so shaped as to relieve the usual strain at the thigh. Insures greater comfort and longer wear.

Low-Neck Sleeveless Suit

Just as a woman is fuller across the bust than the back, so this garment is made with extra fullness in front.

Patent Seat

This consists of a plait on each side of the back, instead of extra cloth in the middle where it causes discomfort. Always stays closed and allows sufficient room, sitting or standing.

"What! Velvets and Plushes 38 and 42 inches Wide at $2.45 a Yard? It Can't be Possible!"

A Millinery Occasion —that should be most delightful for every woman, and irresistible to many women—

Paris model Hats are to be sold by Bullock's at $25.00—$29.50—$35.00—and $45.00
—The brilliant ideas of the world's supreme millinery minds—Millinery masterpieces from Hermance, Marie Guy, Maison Lewis, et al.—
—Together with notable creations from Waters, Joseph, Kurzman, Henri, Bendel, Hyland and others of America's great style masters—
—Then there will be Copies—that are as compelling as the Originals—Correct and Faithful to their models; or cleverly modified and adapted—as charming and perfect in every detail as it is possible for the most painstaking, artistic skill to make them—It's to be a rare millinery occasion that should arouse the enthusiasm of every woman.

New High Crown Pilgrim Hat

—of hatter's plush—will be revealed in new beauties—enriched with beaver, ermine, badger, Hudson seal and other furs. The ideal style, with the newest veils of lace—

Then Turbans and Tricornes

—in great variety. Fascinating Colonial, Tricorne and soft draped styles. Some all Fur—with unique front and Beaded Trimmings. Others of Lyons Velvet, with smart Flat Fancies—surprising values at $12.50—

And Trimmed Sailors

—And Poke Bonnets of lovely Silk Velvet in Black, Navy, Brown and White, Dark Green and Purple—
—From very small to very large in size.

Indispensable Sport Hats

for Country Club, Outing and Motoring. $5, $7.50, $10. Many styles confined to Bullock's for Los Angeles.

—Extraordinary Values— even this season—these

Black Ostrich Plumes $7.50

—10 inches wide and 20 inches long—such values that it will pay you to buy plumes now to keep until ostrich plumes are Fashion's favorites again.
—Because they are not Fashion's favorites now—these beautiful black plumes are on sale Monday at the remarkably low price of $7.50—3rd floor.

100 Pieces Broadcloth

—the mere announcement should be sufficient—for Broadcloths are scarce! scarcer! scarcest!—Listen—
30 pieces to sell at $2.50 yard
35 pieces to sell at $2.00 yard
35 pieces to sell at $1.75 yard
—in the rich good colors of Fall and Winter—Quality and value extreme——"Do you know I could have sold every piece at a profit in New York?"—asks their buyer—
—But the benefits that Bullock's can secure are for Bullock customers in and about Los Angeles—

Unusual Pattern Service

—Mrs. A. C. King of New York, representative of the famous Ladies' Home Journal Patterns, will be at Bullock's for one week—
From Oct. 11th to 16th Inclusive
Mrs. King is a Fashion Expert.
—She thoroughly understands Clothes and knows how to make them.
—There are many radical changes in styles for the coming season and a visit with her will be most helpful to you—at Bullock's, 2nd floor.

—Yet it is possible, incredible as it may seem, and it is true.—And it is very important that not one woman who loves velvet, and desires velvet, should underestimate the strength and extraordinary nature of this announcement—one single wee little bit—

For Bullock's is going to put forward on Monday at 9 o'clock—over 700 yards of most beautiful velvets and plushes at the one extremely low price of $2.45 yard. The following range of shades—
—14 yards will be black (note the small yardage here)—and here, 13 yards Midnight Blue—23 yards Navy—28, Garnet—23, Taupe—18, Alice—31, Cardinal—27, Emerald—23, Beige—30, Champagne—11, Golden Brown—75, Dark Emerald—40, Wood Brown—35, Wine stripe—22, Blue stripe—16, Green stripe—18, Black brocade—The above are velvets—
—54 yards of Gray Plush—81 yards of Jasper Plush—128 yards Moleskin—and 14 yards of Garnet Plush.
—All at $2.45 yard. Not one yard that isn't worth ever and ever so much more—for velvets are in great demand and selling at a premium—when they are to be had at any price—

It's a Wonder Event, and an Equal Opportunity—Yours, —by reason of Bullock's discovery and the eagerness of this store to bring you exceptional values whenever it is possible—
—The story of their purchase is more extraordinary because of its simplicity—Some of the greatest values come from the most unexpected sources—and there are reasons why these velvets could not remain in New York city—
—But the essential fact of interest to you on Monday—is that these velvets and plushes are here—that they are as notable in quality and desirability and variety as they are in the lowness of their price—that they will be on sale starting Monday at 9 a.m.—that there hasn't been an offering this year that approached this in magnetism or magnitude—and that there are four big windows, fronting on Broadway, in which you may see some of them today—Remember—$2.45 yard—

To emphasize still more clearly the dominant position of Bullock's among Western distributors of quality silks and velvets there will be—5 Pieces Extra Wide Black $3.45 yd.
Chiffon Velvet out Monday
—and a 42 inch Chiffon Velvet in every good shade—(a Royal Quality) at $4.50 yd.
—Then there will be all the new silks to see and share—The Georgette crepes, the satins, the stripes and plaids that Fashion is so wild over—Indeed, it will be exceptionally worth while—a trip to Bullock's Silk Store, Monday—

New! Poplin "Mysterieux"

—And it isn't all silk! No, but tell it if you can—if it were it would be—$1.50, $2.00 yard, perhaps. As it is—it is 65c yard—and so much like all silk it defies the most expert "silk-ist" of the world to tell it at a glance.
—36 inches wide—The Wintertime Silk Mixture de Luxe—in the good colors and black——Won't women snap it up! Just watch, on Monday—In the Cotton Goods Store—Second Floor—800 yards of Attractive Fancy Scotch Flannels at 35c—Fancy stripe patterns that are suitable for shirt waists, dresses and children's wear—2nd floor.

Comparison Proves the True Worth of Indestructo Wardrobe Trunks

—Bullock's Trunk Section will gladly explain to you the many points of difference that make the Indestructo Wardrobe Trunks the choice of experienced travelers—it is quite an interesting story and one that no prospective buyer of a Wardrobe Trunk, or of any other kind of a trunk can afford not to know—before he buys.
—Indestructo Wardrobe Trunks are made in four sizes—The Steamer Wardrobe ranges from $42.50 to $57.50—The three-quarter size is priced from $50.00 to $65.00—The medium size, $42.50 to $67.50 and the full size, $55.00 to $100.00.
—Regulation Steamer, Men's and Women's Dress Trunks may be had at $22.50 to $37.50.
—Then there are Indestructo Suit Cases and Traveling Bags that are just as dependable and just as different as are the Trunks—prices range from $6.00 to $50.00.—Trunk Section—7th Floor.

the past few days here, attending to business and visiting at the home of his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Collins of North Central avenue.

Van Nuys.

THE new home of Rev. and Mrs. H. P. Lane was the scene of an old-fashioned house-warming on Thursday evening last. Assisting Mrs. Lane was Mrs. Herrick Lane of Los Angeles and the ladies of the First Presbyterian Church of Van Nuys, of which Rev. Lane is the pastor. Refreshments and delightful musical numbers completed the programme.

Santa Monica.

CELEBRATING their fifth wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. John I. Peasgood invited a few friends to their Cherry-street home for dinner Monday. The predominant colors were blue and pink, the decorations being arranged artistically. The Peasgoods were plentifully supplied with presents of wooden make, one being a complete of the Van Nuys Woman's Club held its first meeting of the season at the home of Mrs. O. B. Hubbell at North Van Nuys. Rehearsal was followed by a merry half-hour over the teacups.

Venice.

MRS. ELEANOR SEIGLE, who has just returned from San Francisco, was honored at a cozy little dinner Sunday night. Mrs. Elizabeth Adams of No. 740 Marco place, was the hostess of the evening. Azele, brilliantly arranged in a rain-bow effect made the dining table most attractive. At the table were Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Adams, Miss Cecelia Hardman, Miss Eleanor Seigle, Miss Lillian Adams and the hostess.

In celebration of their fourth wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Lorrey entertained in a delightful manner a number of their friends at a local dancing pavilion. Following the dancing the party was treated to a dinner at a local cafe. Supper was served to Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Janke, Mr. and Mrs. U. E. Heils, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hurford, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Conant, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Flagg, Miss Bernice Miller and Warren May.

Eddie Fox, the famous comedian, and Mrs. Fox tendered a birthday party Wednesday in honor of their eldest son, Richard, who has attained his fourteenth birthday. The affair was in the nature of a dancing party at a local dancing pavilion.

Leonard Adams of New York City is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Monica Bay Jacobs, at their home, Geraldine Crest, No. 46 Rose avenue.

Members of the Santa Monica Bay Women's Club are planning for dance which will mark the closing of the chrysanthemum show and the beginning of the monthly social affairs of the club. The committee, which will assist Mrs. W. H. L. Symington and Mrs. W. T. Gillis at the informal affair, is composed of the following: Mrs. E. J. Vawter, Mrs. Earl Fraser, Mrs. Frank Lee, Mrs. F. J. Wagner, Mrs. J. D. Bliss, Mrs. Arthur Jackson, Mrs. John Byers, Mrs. B. O.

enjoyable affair were Mrs. Sarah Warrington, Los Angeles; Mrs. W. J. Derge, Mrs. E. J. Bacon, Mrs. Tyler, Mrs. E. H. Baird, Mrs. Head, Mrs. Mustard, Mrs. Emma Parks, Mrs. J. H. Haasinger, Mrs. Amelia Smith, Miss Winnie Thomas, Mrs. E. B. Streeter, Mrs. H. M. Streeter, Mrs. W. J. Englund, Mrs. Abbie Stone, Mrs. W. A. Tenny, Mrs. W. L. Phillips, Mrs. Anna Naumann, Mrs. R. M. Risk, Mrs. Lancaster, Mrs. O. A. Kirkelle, Mrs. H. O. Scher, Mrs. Southern, Mrs. Joseph Davis, Mrs. Herbert Sheppard, Forrest Stephens and George Ryall.

Served at a charmingly-appointed dinner, fourteen guests honored the birthday anniversary Saturday of George Ryall, son of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Ryall, No. 2225 Ocean Front. The honoree, who is a student at Pomona College, was unable to be here until Saturday, though his birthday came in the middle of the week.

The guests were Miss Gladys Rebok, Gertrude Washburn, Miss Eleanor Anderson, Miss Helen Walsh, Miss Katherine Prather, Miss Ruth Killion, Miss Katherine Randall, Jack Evans, Percy Taber, Merritt Van Sant, Joseph Davis, Herbert Sheppard, Forrest Stephens and George Ryall.

Long Beach.

LONG BEACH Ebbl Club members took up the work of the nineteenth programme year of the club last Sunday afternoon.

Decorations were of autumn gold, tall spikes of golden rod forming a hedge in front of the stage and spreading garlands on the plane and shorter sprays filled the window boxes. Mrs. F. L. Rogers, in greeting the club, said in part: "Everybody is glad to know everybody else this year. Only by developing the social side of the club can we have the joy and satisfaction which give inspiration to teamwork. When we realize that we are not our sister's keeper, but our sister's friend, there will be no social problem in the club. The Ebbl wants women who can help the club and women who the Ebbl can help."

The executive board meeting preceding the opening of the club programme, the following new members were accepted: Mmes. C. E. Benton, Jr., A. T. Whitson, C. J. Moody, M. V. Ahlefeld, Alice Mann, M. L. H. E. Bowditch, Jennie C. Hazlett, E. T. Newell, David I. Lilly, E. T. Hatfield, Harry Barber, Christine L. E. Kitchin, G. Novinger, L. A. Clapp, E. K. Huntington, L. B. Baird and Miss C. L. McKenize.

The wedding of Miss Archibald Lawson and Morton Oren Mitchell was solemnized Tuesday evening at the First Friends' Church in the presence of sixty friends. Rev. A. F. Mitchell, pastor of the church, officiated. The impressive ring ceremony was used.

The church was artistically decorated in a color scheme of yellow and white.

The bride entered the church with her brother. The attendants were her sister, Miss Margaret Lawson, maid of honor, and Miss Vera Mitchell, sister of the groom, bridesmaid. Mr. Mitchell was attended by his brother, Fred Mitchell.

Mrs. Mitchell is a native of Scotland. She has been a teacher in the Carroll Park grammar school for the past two years. Mr. Mitchell is a local electrician. After a wedding trip to San Francisco the couple will be at home to their friends at No. 42 Dakota avenue in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin E. Hoffman of No. 33 Newport avenue, have as their guest Clement Burbank Shaw, A.M., Music D.D., Litt., of Chicago, who has taken up his permanent residence in Los Angeles.

Mr. Shaw formerly was Mrs. Hoffman's voice teacher in his relatives. Mrs. S. A. Blakes and Mrs. C. E. Taylor of No. 1620 Appleton street, the past week. Mrs. Goddard, who was formerly Miss Helen Corbin of Rockford, Ill., has been to the United States on a furlough, and will leave shortly for China, where she has been a teacher for twenty-seven years in a Baptist Mission.

Redondo Beach. ONE of the unique affairs of the fall social season was the Spanish barbecue held in the Palos Verdes hills in honor of a group of newlyweds—Mrs. and Mr. Harry F. Phillips and Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor. Mrs. Taylor is a sister of Mr. Phillips, son of the superintendent of the 16,000-acre millionaire colony owned by Frank A. Vanderbilt of New York. The Phillips, senior, entertained 125 guests, many of whom present being from Los Angeles, Santa Monica and Long Beach. A genuine old-fashioned Castilian feast, followed by a la fiesta celebration, reminiscent of the days of the Don in Southern California, was greatly enjoyed. The happy couples will make their homes at two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Baker, taken the Ramer cottage on Ocean street for the winter. Mr. Baker, professor of mathematics at the Military School, Los Angeles, left San Francisco, where he will remain in the northern part of the country here.

Mrs. Mary Montgomery of Los Angeles, who has a young son, came down the early morning train from the metropolis and will stay a few days at the beach.

W. D. Woolwine, a Los Angeles banker, will terminate his stay at the beach today and leave for his home in Los Angeles. The Woolwines purchased a new home during their stay at the beach. Mrs. D. J. Schwartz was hostess to thirty friends at a picnic party on the pier last Sunday.

General social time on the beach was enjoyed by a group of friends who gathered last Monday with Mrs. J. W. Nash and Mrs. J. W. Nash. Mrs. J. W. Nash and Mrs. J. W. Nash. Mrs. J. W. Nash and Mrs. J. W. Nash.

Druse, Mrs. Hazel Foster, and Miss Marjorie Nutting. Coming here on a honeymoon trip, Mr. and Mrs. Hughes Small of Silverton, Or., are charming, young guests of Mr. Small's aunt, Miss Susan Judd of No. 1217 Sixth street. Mrs. Small was formerly Miss Sadie Ethel Bought of Salem, Or., where the marriage was recently solemnized.

Wallace Braden was the host recently at a delightful dinner party given to a few of his friends at the Meritt-Jones hotel. Hand-painted place cards and other table decorations, combined with an artistic arrangement of carnations, made the dining table unusually attractive. After the dinner dancing was the order of affairs at the Ocean Park dance hall. Among those who partook of the delightful dinner were Miss Isabel Stephens, Miss Katherine Bates, Mrs. Bettie Bates, John Sprattling, Robert Hines, Mrs. Morris, the chaperon, and the host.

The annual reception of the school teachers by Prof. L. A. Petro and Mrs. L. A. Petro, head of the schools of this city, and Mrs. Langworthy, last Wednesday evening, was one of the most successful of the year.

Redondo Beach and Long Beach school teachers by Prof. L. A. Petro and Mrs. L. A. Petro, head of the schools of this city, and Mrs. Langworthy, last Wednesday evening, was one of the most successful of the year.

The many "smart" affairs that the "opening" of the autumn season has presented with a dash of the Guadalupe avenue was decorated with garlands and flowers, and the spirit of the season was in the meeting of the new members of the faculty with the old, a most dramatic flower girl and a most beautiful bride.

One of the most interesting of the week was the wedding of Miss Edith Hanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hanson, a young contractor of this city, and a young schoolmistress, Mrs. Langworthy, who was the bride.

The ceremony was held at the home of the bride, with Herbert Collier as the officiant. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Langworthy, and the groom by his brother, Mr. Hanson.

Dandruff Surely Destroys the Hair

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon, apply at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and itching of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

Just Apply This Paste and the Hair Vanish

(Helps to Beauty.) A safe, reliable home treatment for the quick removal of superfluous hairs from your face or neck is as follows: Mix a stiff paste with some water and powdered delatone, apply to objectionable hairs and after two or three minutes rub off with the finger tips. The hairs are gone. This simple treatment is unfailing and no pain or inconvenience attends its use, but to avoid disappointment be certain you get genuine delatone.

SOCIETY.

and Mrs. Kieselhorst are now established in their new home at Fourth street and Los Angeles avenue where they are welcoming their many friends here and from Whittier.

The ladies of the Montebello Chapter, O.E.S., delightfully entertained the members of the Masonic Lodge and their families Wednesday evening with games and refreshments in the Masonic Hall. The programme, which included guessing and conversation games, singing of old songs and a confetti battle, followed by delectable refreshments, was in charge of Mrs. Fred Darcy, and proved very entertaining. The tables were daintily decorated with roses and ferns.

Miss Esther Moulton, whose marriage to Mr. Homer McAdams will take place next month, was the recipient of a miscellaneous shower recently at the home of Mrs. L. J. Cooper in South Montebello. About twenty-five friends and relatives of the bride-to-be were present. The many gifts were carried in by the little niece and nephew of Miss Moulton, in a white parasol and showered on the blushing bride-to-be. Dainty refreshments of strawberry sherbet and individual cakes frosted with pink icing, were served by the gracious hostess.

Mr. J. L. Caner of South Montebello, recently left on an extended trip to Missouri.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Sheriffs, of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Mary Chisholm of Seattle, Wash., were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. J. Russell Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Calkins and family recently visited Mrs. S. W. Brant in Santa Monica.

Mrs. Sarah Pemberton was a recent visitor of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Tacy Adell in Whittier.

Claremont.

MR. JAMES A. BLAISDELL, assisted by Mrs. D. H. Colcord, Mrs. F. P. Brackett and Mrs. R. T. Belcher, received informally on Tuesday afternoon, an invitation being extended to all the men and women of Pomona College to call. This is the first of a series of such informal "at home" which Mrs. Blaisdell is planning to give, assisted by different faculty ladies. The first Tuesday of each month will be reserved for the college students especially.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Abernethy returned on Wednesday from a six weeks' stay at Pacific Grove, where their companions were Rev. and Mrs. William Horace Day of Los Angeles. The party spent much time playing on the Del Monte golf links.

"As You Like It," the play given on Saturday evening by the Rembrandt Club, was the subject of a lecture by Dr. Phoebe Eselle Spalding, head of the English department of Pomona College, before her Shakespeare class on Monday afternoon in Rembrandt Hall. The lecture was open to the public and greatly appreciated by a large audience.

Tuesday, afternoon, Mrs. L. M. Hudson entertained at her home on Harvard avenue. The afternoon was devoted to sewing and chatting, and was greatly enjoyed by all the members of the club and their guests, Mrs. R. A. Lewis, Mrs. E. W. Hubbard, Mrs. A. B. Joy and Mrs. S. E. Storer.

Miss Lucy Becker of Springfield, Ariz., is the house guest of Mrs. Marvin Fox.

New members of the Girls' Glee Club of Pomona College was selected after two tryouts held on Saturday and Monday afternoons. Misses Hazel Burnham, Gertrude Bristol, Doris Carver, Rachel Pryor, Irene Wilson, Gretchen Fixlin, Gladys Gorton, Helena Goodale, Estelle Hamilton, Margaret Jones, Dorothy Tutwill, Lucy Woolley, Della Shaw, Gladys Towt, Joy Park and Helen Sheets were the successful contestants.

The following were retained as temporary members pending further competition: Misses Dorothy Beaman, Helena Curtis, Winifred Horn, Grace Hamilton, Margaret Parson, Anne Sloan, Georgia Smith and Milda Woelke.

Word has been received by Claremont friends of the engagement of Prof. William Scott Ament to Miss Eleanor Hill of Oberlin, O. Prof. Ament, who was recently appointed assistant professor of English at Pomona, is at present engaged in post-graduate work at Harvard University on leave of absence. Miss Hill is a graduate student in the Oberlin School of Music, where she was a student when Prof. Ament first met her, eight years ago.

Miss Charlotte Neely, who was president of the women's organization of Pomona College last year, addressed the young women of the college Sunday morning at Sumner Hall on the subject of "Christianity."

The women of the Oberlin Christian Church are divided into numerous circles for their monthly meetings according to their birth months. Each circle was entertained by a different hostess, on Thursday afternoon.

San Fernando.

WITH the advent of cooler weather, social activities are being resumed with zest. One of the most delightful affairs was the dinner with which Mrs. Robert L. Fraisher entertained Thursday evening in honor of Mr. Fraisher's birthday anniversary. The party was unexpected by the guest of honor. Pink pecanias artistically tied with pink tulle were an attractive setting. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. John T. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Ackley, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Rose, Mrs. C. E. Moffett, Miss Faith Roberts, Mr. James H. Moffett and Mr. James K. Hooper. Mr. and Mrs. Fraisher also entertained with an informal dinner party Monday evening when the guests were Mrs. D. P. Dayman, Miss Lucile Zander, Miss Evelyn Dayman, Miss Faith Roberts, Miss Margaret Herkovits, Miss Louise Specht.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Hubbard also entertained the first of the week with a beautifully appointed dinner in honor of Mrs. Holmes, Macay and Mrs. Jack Egbert. Centered in the table were masses of carnations and ferns. Small pink bonbon baskets with little place cards of the same color motif marked cover for Mrs. Jennie Kanier, Miss Lillie Hawk, Catherine Ellen Egbert, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Wright, Mr. Jack Egbert, Mr. Charles Hawk and the honorees.

An informal buffet supper was greatly enjoyed by a few friends of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick D. Parker, who entertained at their home Thursday evening. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. John H. Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph G. Miller, Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Mackey, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Egbert, Mrs. Henry Parker, Miss Margaret Herkovits, Miss Jane Parker and Mr. Jack Gibson.

Tustin.

THE women of Tustin acted as hostesses at the royal chicken banquet with which Tustin entertained the members of the Orange County Associated Chambers of Commerce on a recent Wednesday evening, when 163 guests sat down at elaborately-decorated tables set in the manual training room of the Tustin school building, which is one of the most beautiful of its kind in Southern California. Low pots of pink Maman Cochet roses, alternating with

New fall waists underpriced $2.95 and $5

If values are a criterion, the waist department is going to be one of the busiest spots in our whole store on Monday. Either one of these two very remarkable lots of waists should attract enough women to set a new sales total; together they should cause a mighty sensation!

The waists at $5.00

—are copies of high-priced models. The fact that we can sell them at $5 is due more to the elimination of designing expense than to the cheapening of materials and workmanship. Everything about these waists will appeal to the woman who usually pays double and more than this price.

They are waists of plaid and striped taffetas—waists of the new Radium lace—waists of crepe de chine and others in plain colored taffetas—over 400 of them to choose from.

The waists at $2.95

—are of silks, of plaids, of Georgette crepe, of crepe de chine and of laces, in ever so many new and different styles that you'll like. The crepe de chine come in flesh and white—long-sleeve styles! All sizes in all waists—2nd floor—Jacoby's.

A very special purchase of Imperfect cutglass 99c

A well-known Cutter of Glassware has sent us his entire stock of imperfect cut glass so very much underpriced that we're able to offer pieces at 99c which would sell at 2 to 10 times that price if they were perfect. Some of the pieces are just slightly chipped—some have a tiny flaw in the glass—others have cracks. For the most part you'll have to look and look to find the imperfections. Among the pieces included are vases, tankards, trays, celery trays, bowls, footed nappies, compots and scores of other pieces for the buffet or china closet! Main Floor—Jacoby's.

One of the country's greatest milliners sent these Bewitching hats for Monday $10.00

The express brought them just a few short hours ago—that means that they're just a few days old—and that they are quite the newest and most approved of all Fashion's ideas.

These hats were sent to us as one of the feature items for this 2nd Monday of the October Better Value demonstration and when you see them you'll agree that every one of them is a Better Value—yes, even a Wonder value

Among them are small hats—turbans, if you please, but different from any turbans that we've seen so far—and then there are rich, hand-blocked Picture hats and novelties in an almost infinite variety. There are hats with simple little ornament trimmings—there are some with dashing feather trims—some with dainty flowers nestled in among the folds of the velvet—some with sweeping paradise or sprays of gourd—and others with the very popular, and hard to get, fur trimmings.

Truly a remarkable collection of hats to sell for $10.

Velvet tams $7.50 Velvet turbans $5 Close your eyes and imagine a Tam O'Shanter of black Lyons velvet with the entire crown prettily shirred—then over at one side picture two handsome jet pins set at a saucy angle, and you have one of these tams at $7.50. These are very close-fitting little headpieces with the velvet shirred all over the entire hat. They are trimmed with four very pretty flowers made up of fur and velvet. They look the part of hats costing much more than $5.

Hundreds of them—and scores of different styles Silk velvet hat shapes $1.45, $1.95, $2.95

The fact that these shapes are all of silk and Lyons velvet—and the fact that there are several hundred dozen of them, is about all it will be necessary for us to tell you here—for every woman knows that shapes of silk velvet and of Lyons velvet are very seldom found at the low prices we've named—and surely no woman could ask for a bigger assortment to choose from.

immense individual roses and ferns, extended through the center of each table from end to end with a centering decoration of gorgeous Maroon Cochet in tall jardiniere. Roses were massed in banks in the corners of the room and an immense bank of the Cochet assumed the proportions of a floral bower. At each place was a name card bearing a map of Thun and boutonniere of Cecile Brunner buds and an altar of roses laid. Young matrons and charming maidens in white directed and carried out the table service. Mrs. E. Earl Tinsley, president of the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid, was in charge. The Tustin band discoursed delightful music. The business session of the visitors' was held in the auditorium of the building, where hundreds of Mammoth Cochet roses were in evidence. The visitors were profuse in their praise of the elaborate and charming hospitality of the ladies, several of whom are members of the Tustin Chamber of Commerce. Miss Ada Squires was recently hostess to the members of the Tipperary Club, her home being cheerful with roses, ferns and flowers. A social number, that had been arranged for, were crowded out by the programme of merry games that amused the company and which were followed by delicious refreshments. Those present were Misses Vera Finster, Rheta and Vera German, Thelma Nordstrom, Lois Morgan, Lillian Martin, Myrtle Bowman and Messrs. William Alley, Quincy Page, Roy Morgan, Raymond Marcell, Lee Kanyon, Horace Shaffer, Earl Friend and Edna Squires. The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Kiser was the scene of a pretty birthday party given on a recent Thursday day to celebrate the second birthday of charming little Bonnie Kiser. The other tots, who enjoyed the pink decorations, the pink birthday cake and the other goodies and the merry childish games, were Frances Bowman, Kathleen and Loma Allen, Helen Smith, Elizabeth Smith, Marian Leiby, Beth Collier, Vivian Marple, Thelma Johnson, Bertrice Kiser, Philip Grise, Josephine Martin, Lois Kiser, Charles Kiser and Donald Grise.

Pomona. THE wedding of Miss Marian Frances Sweet and Earl Pitts of this city took place at the First Baptist Church Sunday morning as the crowning feature of the rally day services which were attended by more than 1000 people. A pink and white color scheme made the auditorium of the church beautiful. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. F. Harper. The contracting parties stood beneath an enormous floral arch. They marched to the altar along a path which was strewn with rose petals by four little girls whose names are Louise, Edna Paige, Catherine Peck and Eunice Loder. Their participating was a special feature arranged by friends at the last moment as a special favor to the bride. Miss Maude Terrill attended Miss Sweet and the groom's brother, Oscar Pitts, was the best man. Robert Eubank sang "I Love You" just before the ceremony and Mrs. Egbert played the wedding march. Following the ceremony a wedding luncheon was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Sweet, No. 357 West Holt avenue. The decorations were the same as those at the church. At the bride's table there was a big centerpiece of pink roses. The bride and groom left in the afternoon for Los Angeles. They will spend ten days at the San Diego exposition and upon their return they will reside at No. 678 West Center street.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Banks of San Dimas gave a little party at Ganesha Park Friday in honor of friends from Oklahoma. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Albert White, Mr. and Mrs. Morton Groenendyke and children and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Groenendyke and children, Mr. and Mrs. L. Rutty and daughters, Mrs. Charles Garvin, Mrs. Ruth Cruse and children, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Slyhouse, Mr. and Mrs. George Eberly, Mrs. Nettie Shores and Mrs. John Shores. The Seal family recently drove to Pomona from Oklahoma City, on their way to San Francisco and San Diego. A picnic dinner including crushed strawberries was served at the park for the refreshments of the crowd at noon. The eighth birthday anniversary of Mrs. W. H. White, No. 129 East Pasadena street was celebrated Monday by a delightful surprise party which was arranged by numerous relatives and friends residing in and around this city. The morning hours were made pleasant by an auto ride with one of her sons through the valley. In the meantime her other relatives took possession of the house and arranged to serve a fine birthday luncheon. On the table was an immense birthday cake circled with eight candles. Three other tapers occupied the center of the cake. Those in attendance at the birthday anniversary were Mrs. M. E. White, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. White of Long Beach, Mrs. Will White of Topeka, Mrs. Phil McMullen of Ontario, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lawrence and children, Mrs. Lewis Bird, and children, Miss Louise Renella, Mrs. Graybeck, and Mrs. Helen Brady and son.

Saturday evening Miss Adeline Warner entertained charmingly at a dinner party and dance at No. 607 North Main street, complimentary to her house guests, the Misses Idella Patterson, Elsie Waite and Nat Rutherford of Los Angeles. The guests included Mrs. Clara Arbuthnot of Los Angeles, Miss Beatrice Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin and Messrs. Donald Gaston, True Hartshorn and Clarence Roberts. The party motored to the J. P. Barnes lodge at Camp Baldy, Sunday.

The marriage of Miss Lou Nellie Milson, daughter of Mrs. C. Milson, at No. 574 South Gibbs street, and Arthur Hayward of San Bernardino, took place Tuesday afternoon in the home of the bride's mother, Mr. Hayward is engaged in the lumber business at San Bernardino, where they will make their home. An "at home" was given by Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Baker, No. 77 Palm place, Friday evening. Twenty-four guests were entertained and given an opportunity to make the acquaintance of a niece of the Bakers, Miss Adah Veale of Rockledge, Tex. She is here for a tour of the State, including the exposition.

The E.O.W. Club members were entertained Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. A. L. Laubitts at No. 443 Alvarado street. An informal dinner party kept the guests busy for awhile and they were regaled with a two-course buffet luncheon. The members present were Messrs. J. W. Baughman, C. O. Baughman, Leonard Boyd, C. W. Faria, H. H. Denny, T. E. Guerin, J. W. Joos, Edgar Outland, R. L. Pfaffenbach, William Reynolds, J. B. Stuer, Willis Taylor, C. B. Mowley, John Whipp, C. C. Killis and Milton Zander.

San Dimas. THE San Dimas Five Hundred Club will be entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Clinton DeWitt at their home on San Dimas avenue next Thursday night. This is the first meeting of the 1915-16 year. Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Shields and Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Bennett left Fri-

You Can Be Beautiful Surely, Quickly

Beauty Secrets That Are Real Gems, Revealed by Valeska Suratt, the Brilliant Actress, Famed for Her Self-Made Beauty.

If you could buy it at the stores. You find that your hair will not come out if it did before, and you will be almost a right to be of mine.

MRS. PILGRIM.—As you were unfortunately not able to secure the sulfo solution (for removing superfluous hairs), as follows: "Secretary to Valeska Suratt, Thompson Bldg., Chicago," enclosing a safe mixture, of which take 2 teaspoon-fuls after each meal and at bedtime.

MISS PRETTY.—You will understand
I cannot assure you, any more than can anyone else, that the hair will be surely developed. Nevertheless, the formula I give here is admitted to be the most effective for the purpose. Mix together two ounces of rosewater, half a cup of sugar and half a pint of cold water. This makes a safe mixture, of which take 2 teaspoon-
fuls after each meal and at bedtime.

MISS PEPPER.—Yes, it is possible to rid the face of blackheads in a few minutes by sprinkling some powdered her-oxin on a sponge, made wet with hot water, and rubbing this on the face on the parts affected with blackheads. There is no use pinching out these persistent blemishes, as this spots the skin. You can get the heroxin at any drug store. I consider this one of my best formulas.

MRS. W. R. O.—In a great many face powders there is a chalkiness which makes the powder visible. That's why I use my own face powder made after my own formula. No one can detect its use, yet it gives an extraordinary tint.
This is obtained at many drug and department stores. It is a safe mixture, of which take 2 teaspoonfuls after each meal and at bedtime.

MISS ANXIOUS.—A remarkable preparation to prevent excessive perspiration in the armpits is hydroalcolic tint. It is absolutely safe, keeps the armpits usually fresh and dry, and you will have no more gowns ruined because of perspiration. Any drug store can supply
it. It also destroys the odor of perspiration and other objectionable body

MISS PICKETT.—My advice is not to use any of the superfluous hair removers advertised as one can easily detect the fact that you are afflicted with wild hair.
The only safe, keeps the armpits usually fresh and dry, and you will have no more gowns ruined because of perspiration. Any drug store can supply
it. It also destroys the odor of perspiration and other objectionable body

Wedding and celebrations of brides-elect and anniversaries featured the social life of the city the past week.
Dignified simplicity marked the wedding of Miss Beattie Knight to Mr.
John Barrett Case of Fullerton, which was performed at the home of the bride's brother, H. D. Knight, No. 306 Bridge street, at high noon on Tuesday. The service was read by Rev.
Arthur E. Schultz of Calexico, a classmate of the groom at the University of California. The young people were unattended and left immediately after the wedding for San Francisco, where the honeymoon will be spent.

Miss Louise Gerard, who is to become the bride of Mr. L. G. Bentley in the near future, was the complimented guest of Mrs. W. S. Munn of West Tenth street, and by Rev.
Arthur E. Schultz of Calexico, a classmate of the groom at the University of California. The young people were unattended and left immediately after the wedding for San Francisco, where
the honeymoon will be spent.

Invited to the home of Miss Mabel O. Lawrence on Kansas avenue on Monday evening to participate in the pranks of a Halloween party, the guests discovered that they had in reality been asked to a delightful betrotal announcement. Miss Lawrence completely surprised her friends with the interesting news of her engagement to Mr. Ralph Sherman of Utah.
The marriage will be solemnized in Utah some time in November.

The celebration on Sunday of the fifty-fifth wedding anniversary of Rev.
and Mrs. W. Easton of No. 408 Euclid avenue, was marked by the presence of twelve of their children. Mr. and Mrs. Easton were married in Illinois, and removed to this city two years ago.

Of special interest locally was the wedding of Charles R. Gray, an attorney of this city, to Mrs. Harriet R. J.
Collingswood of Pasadena, which took place at the base of the Civil War monument in Library Park, Pasadena, on Wednesday. The bridegroom is a prominent member of the Masonic fraternity.

Mrs. J. F. Butterfield, regent of Rhubarb Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, opened her home Friday afternoon for the first annual meeting of the members of the organization. Mrs. Clara Miller Hunt and Miss Alice Butterfield assisted the hostess in receiving and entertaining. The talk was given by Mrs. Walter Dean of Corona, a Virginian by birth, who was able to give her review of the early history of the State, a first-hand treatment that added much to the interest of its presentation.

The season for the younger social set was opened in a delightful manner this week with a dancing party, given in the Victoria club building by the members of the Omega Beta Chapter of the Gamma Eta Kappa fraternity. The dance was the first of the three formal affairs to be given by the fraternity during the winter, the others being the Christmas dance for the college folk, and the third an early spring func-

STOPS FALLING HAIR

This Home Made Mixture Stops Dandruff and Falling Hair and Aids Its Growth.

To half a pint of water add:
Bay Rum 1 oz.
Bar Compound 1 small box.
Glycerine 1-4 oz.
These are all simple ingredients that you can buy from any drugist at very little cost, and mix them yourself. Apply to the scalp once a day for two weeks, then once every other week until all the mixture is used. A half pint should be enough to rid the head of dandruff and kill the dandruff germs. It stops the hair from falling out and relieves itching and scalp diseases.

Although it is not a dye, it acts upon the hair roots and will darken streaked, faded, gray hair in ten or fifteen days. It promotes the growth of the hair and makes harsh hair soft and glossy.

stuck, but that she was merely trying not to float away.

For two weeks, at this beginning of her stage triumph, she had a sense of always floating and could never feel that she was touching the ground. It was the very contrary of nerves and came near being a breakdown.

In this first skill she was obliged to sing, but she was so sensitive and frightened that she absolutely lost her voice every time she went to a different town.

Marjorie struggled along in vaudeville an entire year before genius and hard work met with their reward. It happened at Portland, where she was plucked into stock as leading woman at the age of 19, a position she retained for an engagement of forty-five weeks. Her manager thought she was 19, for she was a big little girl and allowed herself to weigh 166 pounds, something she has never dared do since.

Her favorite role at 19 was Camille. She adored dying and wanted to take her time about it. Everybody in the company, from the stage manager down, would beg her to die more quickly, but to her sudden death was sacred. She used to weep if not allowed the luxury of a lingering death.

An amazing incident occurred in this connection one time at Aberdeen, Wash., where she was playing "East Lynne" to big audiences of sympathetic lumber-jacks, in a house where the seats were all benches and which was heated by a big wood stove in the center.

Marjorie was aware that these people loved to see Isabel die, and it delighted her child's fancy that the older lumber-jacks would weep over the sorrows of the character.

One night they were going to have a big supper afterwards and the whole company begged her to die quickly. Now, it was the duty of her mother to conceal herself under the cot in which Isabel lingered, in order to hold a lamp and shed a soft light over the occasion.

Mrs. Rambeau had been thoroughly provoked that evening, because, by a trick of the last minute, Marjorie had compelled her to sing "Then You'll Remember Me." Mrs. Rambeau could not sing, or felt that she could not, and this was a song she didn't know. She was smothering her wrath under that cot where Marjorie's death scene came, and was provoked still further by the fact that Marjorie didn't know this scene and she was compelled to read it to the girl, while the latter solemnly repeated the lines after her.

At the end of each line she would urge Marjorie to die, but Marjorie continued to rave about "her child" and to expire with luxurious ease. At this point Mrs. Rambeau took her hatpin and jabbed viciously through the cruelly thin property mattress. Marjorie gave a scream, and it was there that Isabel died.

There probably never was a more sincere collapse at any death scene on the stage. Immediately afterwards the company had supper.

By these tokens it becomes clear that Marjorie Rambeau is truly of the large, heroic West and her acting proves that she has incorporated the breadth and the fire of this stupendous land in her own sunny self.

With the temperament of her French name, the hearty coloring of her Dutch tulip, her sprightly Irish wit and her Kentucky gentleness, this little daughter of the incomparable West has learned the way to the larger vision and the higher force.

Now, when she acts, she has only one desire in her heart, and that is to show others a better way. The cry of this girl's life is to inspire thoughtfulness in others. She has a fine capacity for feeling, but a remarkable faculty for retaining mental control.

It gives me joy (all of the joy that it will not give several others) to say that Marjorie Rambeau cordially dislikes "Sadie Love," and that the idea of going to New York in this piece to conclude her present contract which runs for at least three months more, is not pleasant to her.

Going to New York is decidedly agreeable. She wants to appear there in a somewhat well executed for at least a few weeks each season, because that is the way affairs are conducted dramatically in this country, but "Sadie Love" is none of the finer choices. It happens to be the only vehicle at hand. Every effort was made to secure something suited to her and it could not be found.

Miss Rambeau knows that "Sadie Love" is an exceedingly cheap farce. She knows that it has no appeal to loveliness or to any of the finer attributes. She does it well, exactly as she would play a game of croquet well, but playing croquet would not express Marjorie Rambeau, and neither does "Sadie Love."

There is just a chance that "Cousin Kate," a sparkling comedy with the virtue of decency, can be secured for Miss Rambeau a few weeks hence, and if this can be accomplished, she will have as her support that most charming and cultured artist of temperate shading, Bruce McRae. It would be very good if this should happen and Los Angeles should have the joy of both of them some time later in the season.

When Marjorie Rambeau leaves for New York tomorrow, she will take so many good wishes from Los Angeles that could they be turned to flowers there would be another Eden.

It opens another subject to say that Miss Rambeau will find a very different New York this year from last. In the first place, the managers there have at last been compelled to reform business conditions and to exclude the ticket scalper. Prices will be the same in New York after this for all performances and a man will be able to go to any house, knowing that, if any seats are left, he can get them at their worth.

The big houses will charge $2 for their best seats, $1.50 for their second and $1.00 for their third. They will also have a gallery which is a tremendous business getter, for many more reasons than the 25 cent charge.

A change will also be in the lighting system. Mr. Belasco, in "The Boomerang," has abolished the footlight. He throws a soft, yellow light upon the stage from the sides and from the top. They have been doing this in Europe for some time. This summer Granville Barker focused a big light on the stage from the rear with fine effect, and at Berkeley, in the Greek Theater, Miss Anglin did away both with footlights and the silly, blinding strands of incandescent lights through the audience.

By the way, I don't believe I am going to like this new play which Miss Anglin has selected and which had its tryout in San Francisco the past week. It is about Mary Magdalene and a play about this lady has no chance to end happily. Besides, I am satisfied vaguely with the pleasant pageant which Maurice Maeterlinck prepared for the Magdalene's benefit, although I can't say that I see any stage necessity for this.

Miss Anglin's new version has the virtue of carrying a good story but the fault of being done in blank verse. If Mr. Shakespeare will excuse me, I am not fond of plays and poetry getting themselves confused.

Tells of Edison's Youth.

did not share the opinion of most of the other operators that he was 'daffy,' which he was not, strange to say I never met him after he left Louisville. In all of the newspaper accounts I have read about him I have never seen anything stated about his career in Louisville, although at least two of the Louisville Union operators who are still alive believe my recollection of him as weak as it were yesterday. Perhaps Mr. Edison is sore at Louisville because no one here appreciated his great genius. However, it was in Louisville that he got his start by inventing that stock ticker.

"With the money which he raised from this invention he opened a machine shop near Newark, N. J. Since then he has perfected automatic telegraphy, made a successful typewriter, perfected the device which he was working on in Louisville forty-nine years ago, whereby four messages can be sent over the same wire, whereas, while he was working in the office here, only one message could be sent over the same wire at the same time. He has also perfected the transmitter which he was working on while he lived in Louisville. All of these inventions, together with the 100 or more which I cannot name, must have brought him an immense fortune—that is, if he cares for money. In this income I might have shared had I not put the 100 he wanted to borrow in oil stock."

Mr. Underwood long ago accumulated sufficient means through fortunate real estate investments to yield him a competence. He is happily married and the father of four grown sons. Of late years, however, he has been in poor health, and on this account is unable to travel, else he would visit his old friend, "Tom" Edison, as every one in the Western Union office in Louisville used to call him.

By these tokens it becomes clear that Marjorie Rambeau is truly of the large, heroic West and her acting proves that she has incorporated the breadth and the fire of this stupendous land in her own sunny self.

BITS OF VERSE.

The quiet days are coming. On the hills
The sun glows palely, while the Sapphires wing
Their noiseless ways. Where once
The babbling rills, now only silence falls.
And when a lone bird for some wanderer calls,
Its plaintive notes no faintest echoes bring.

Gone are the voices that the summer knew—
Those gay, glad voices joining vale and steep;
Bare are the bowers where rare-bloomed flowers grew,
And tall ferns nodded, while the slumbering trees
Whisper in dreams, to every passing breeze,
Those dear, sweet secrets that trees should keep.

Bright were the hours of sunshine;
When, "neath blue skies, fond love pursued its quest.
Now Indian summer's chastely gleam bathes all the earth in quiet, minor tones.
Yet summer's love has come into its own.
And heart to heart its many trumps resound.

"Laura Sheldon, in New York Times."

I find you, I find you, in the wild, unpeopled places,
Where, mile on mile, the heather-land unrolls!
You smile in simple upturned flower-faces
Which honest yellow sunlight aureoles!
The curlews crying on the windy moors.
The glad larks singing in the blue, have souls
Star-clear as yours!

I find you in the forest, where the trees Bend, dreaming, o'er the rilllet, seaward sped;
I see your graceful slenderness in these,
I feel your touch in brown leaves softly shed
On wistful golden afternoons; and turn
To see the sweet curve of your down-bent head
In grass and fern.

I find you best, I think, beside the sea;
It breathes your very spirit—fresh and clean,
Yet full of breath and light and mystery, Deepness on deepness, hidden and unseen!
In the untrammelled tide you are expressed
So well and warmly! Sea and sky between.

I find you best.

MEN AND EVENTS.

Harvey Lawrence, known among the inmates of the Hutchinson (Kan.) reformatory as "the piece of a man," recently escaped from the institution. Lawrence acquired his name through his physical condition. He has lost one arm, one leg and one eye. He was sent up from Ford, Ford county, for stealing a Ford car. Lawrence is a chronic wanderer and told the officers at the time of his arrest he was tired of hopping around on one foot.

Unable to speak above a whisper for four years, Miss Mollie Frisch, an invalid of Altoona, Pa., suddenly recovered her power of speech. She awoke from a sound sleep, having experienced a sensation of approaching death, and found that she could talk louder than ever. She has been ill with pulmonary trouble, and now declares she is going to get well.

A modern Adam and Eve plunged into the woods near Skowhegan, Me., last week for a two-week stay. Adam was Walter Estes of Case, and Eve was his wife. They violated the biblical tradition by substituting bathing towels for fig leaves. But they entered the wilderness with empty hands, prepared to wrench subsistence from the earth roots, or berry bushes—or from wherever else it might appear. The two are familiar with the woods, and are confident of success in their experiment.

Prof. H. G. Walters of Langhorne, Pa., has a peach tree which bears grafts as follows: Two of apple, three of rose, two of cedar and one each of huckleberry, blackberry, lilac, plum and cherry.

Mayor William Riddle of Atlantic City believes in preparedness. He has had samples of wood sent from different makers of coffins so that he may select the material from which his is to be fashioned.

Mrs. Catherine Roberts of Richmond, Mo., is cutting her third set of teeth at the age of 78 years. The teeth appear to be well developed, and it is thought she will have a full set when the ordeal is past.

THE HELPING HAND.

In order to stimulate gifts of $10,000,000 Methodist Episcopal church, the Rev. Dr. Harry F. Berry has given gifts of $1000 each to the churches in the Philadelphia conference which he has represented. These conferences are Philadelphia, New Jersey, New York, Wyoming and Pennsylvania.

The conference claimed for the support of various ministers and the widows and orphans of deceased ministers. Inspired by Bishop Berry's one gift the preachers of the conference are contributing 100 percent of their salaries for one year. The plan is to have the Methodist church in the active service as a result of the conference. Thus a pastor who has had forty years of active service will receive $1000. At the same time the conference will be able, some $15,000,000, or 15,000,000 only $2.

Charitable bequests to educational institutions for the education of the poor, amounting to $10,000,000, contained in the will of the late Dr. J. B. Brown, who recently died in Philadelphia. COMMENT AND OPINION.
How to Write a Novel.
The following is taken from the Arranged News, a house organ for Reilly and Britton Company, and is something of a satire on "correspondence school authorship." The "correspondence school lesson" follows:
To begin with, there are four kinds of novels: the society novel; the sunshine novel; the realistic novel; the adventure novel. There is to be sure, a fifth kind, the literary novel; but as you can't find a market for this variety, we won't discuss it here.

WONDERFUL RECORD MADE BY GIL ANDERSON IN STUTZ.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. — From his place as mere twinkle in the armament of motor car drivers, Gil Anderson became a fixed star today when he won the first of the series of five races for the Astor cup over the new Sheepshead Bay speedway.

Anderson drove his white Stutz car the 250 miles in 3h. 24m. 42s., equivalent to a speed of 102.60 miles an hour and faster by seventy-four-hundredths of a mile — than the best competitive record made by Resta in the Chicago century challenge race of only 100 miles. His effort netted him the first-money prize, $10,000, and several thousand more in accessory prizes, a part of which he shares with his mechanic, C. W. Scott. Tom Rooney, driving a Stutz, finished second, forty-seven seconds behind Anderson, with Ed O'Donnell, in a Deussenberg, a distant third.

It was a successful dedication of what the drivers agree is the finest track of its kind in the country and it is now proved to be the fastest. Weather conditions were perfect and there was no accident to any of the drivers or mechanics to mar the race. Fully 50,000 saw the race, though the official estimate of attendance was 27,000.

In the early stages of the contest such daredevil drivers as Mulford, Oldfield, De Palma, Wilcox, Cooper, and finally, Resta, were eliminated one after the other and the prospects of those starting bits of driving that made thrills anticipated during the late stages of the contest, when dar-

MOTOR TRUCKS MOVE THE CITY.

THE motor truck is put to more varied uses in Southern California than in any other section of the country, according to transportation experts. In Los Angeles, the motor truck plays a most important part in every branch of commercial activity.

Something new happens in Los Angeles about once a minute, especially with "things on wheels." The carriage and pair gave graceful place to the present touring car, the smaller equipages to which society was formerly addicted have rapidly evolved into roadsters and runabouts, the "horseless dog carts" of today. At the same time the vehicles of industry have not been left behind in this race for development, in fact the progress of the motor truck toward finality seems to have been even more rapid than the pleasure car.

So now it's horseless house-moving in Los Angeles. When we want to make room for a skyscraper, instead of a great array of ropes and chains and tackle, and a merry-go-round windlass wound by a tired horse, the latest "move" is to back a modern motor truck up in front of the house, pull it off the foundations onto properly-prepared skids and tow it down the street.

GASOLINE BY AUTO HAULED.

When officials of the Puente Oil Company discovered that they could not ship gasoline to Fresno for the racers using their fuel in time for the tryouts, a KisselKar roadster which is used as a service car at the yards was loaded with fifty gallons of gasoline, five cases with two five-gallon cans to the case, and driven to Fresno in time for the preliminary heats.

A group of farmers near McEwan, Tenn., has arranged to conduct a motor truck transportation line between their farms and Nashville, thus enabling them to market the fruit they raise three times a week instead of about once a week.

DRIVES CAR UP PIKE'S PEAK CUT.

A record of eleven years continuous handling of a single line of automobiles is a decidedly unusual one among motor car dealers, yet H. J. Adams of Postoria, O., who dropped in at Earle C. Anthony, Inc., last week, has sold Reo cars steadily for this length of time.

Adams, accompanied by his family, started West in a four-cylinder Reo early this summer, and has traveled over 5000 miles so far. He expects to start for home tomorrow via the National Old Trails route, and he reports a thoroughly enjoyable journey so far.

On a Pike's Peak excursion Adams drove his car higher on the new road than a motor car had ever penetrated before. The road is still in progress of construction, and Adams piloted his Reo clear to the present end of the road, at an altitude of 13,000 feet. "At a 13,000 foot altitude your motor will not deliver its accustomed power. At 8000 feet the Reo pulled as well as ever, but 5000 feet on top of that took a good deal of pep out of the motor."

Boston will not hold a six-day bicycle race this season.

Secret practice for L. A. High.

Coach Featherstone directs fast work-out of Los Angeles High squad behind closed doors from 1916 Chalmers light six touring car.

PLENTY PEP AT L. A. HIGH.

NOT since the days of Ted Giesler, Louis Cass and "Fat" Silent has the football spirit of Los Angeles High School reached such a pitch of enthusiasm.

The Blue and White boys have returned to the American gridiron sport with a vengeance. The student body, recalling the days when L. A. High was the peer of any prep. team on the Pacific Coast, are restless to see their favorites battle Long Beach next Saturday in the opening game of the season.

Notwithstanding all this enthusiasm Coach Featherstone keeps his warriors as secret as Christmas toys from the children at home. Behind locked gates for the past two weeks, they have listened to the praise and to the roasting of the coach in his endeavor to wean them from their Rugby habits on the gridiron.

Coach Featherstone for the past few years has ranked with the foremost Rugby teachers in Southern California, while, on the other hand, he is an enthusiast and student of the American game, having been schooled by the great "Hurry-up" Yost of Michigan.

Secrecy is his policy and several games a week are being played without the opposing team even being known to the student body. Thursday afternoon the first-string men were loaded into a big Chalmers Six and quietly taken to Tournament Park for a practice game with the heavy squad from Throop College.

As Capt. Fents of the Hilltoppers ran his squad up and down the field previous to the game, Coach Featherstone followed every signal from the steering wheel of the Chalmers.

"We are out to win all honors," said the coach. "Every fellow on the squad realizes the prestige of L. A. High in the old days and is fighting hard to retain that standing. The outside high schools that have been playing American football all the time should have an advantage. But we may spring a surprise, and at any rate closed gates will keep them all guessing until the kick-off."

CALIFORNIA BIG TOURING FIELD.

California offers more varied and beautiful touring country than any other State in the Union, or any foreign country, in the opinion of Norman Nelson, who, with his wife, has just returned from a two-month trip through Northern California and Oregon.

Even the tourist who sees only the stereotyped California scenery realizes this fact, but there is much of the beautiful country which very few motorists ever see. This is the Coast Range of mountains, north of San Francisco and off the main traveled highways.

Wonderful as the country is through which lead the main highways of the State's great system, the byways lead into even more beautiful sections, declares Mr. Nelson.

Leaving Los Angeles on July 22 in Mr. Nelson's Overland car, they drove north to San Francisco, stopping at many towns on account of important business engagements. They stayed in San Francisco several days, visiting the exposition, and then continued their tour north to Portland.

FIRST VISIT TO WESTERN FIELD.

One of the biggest men in the rubber industry of America, Van H. Cartmell, will arrive in Los Angeles today from the East on a business and pleasure trip. Mr. Cartmell, who is vice-president of the Rubber Club of America, and president of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, is visiting the exposition as well as looking over the work of his factory branches on the Pacific Coast.

It is Mr. Cartmell's first business visit to the Coast. His affairs in the East have absorbed his time until this season, but the increase in business which the local branch has reaped this season, and the fact that the California territory is one of the most important in the country, brought him out here this fall.

FOR THE WINTER.

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 8.—J. E. Webb, a business man of Walla Walla, Wash., with his family, have just arrived in a Buick six and intend to spend the winter in Southern California. They had nothing but praise for their car, which carried the heavy load on the long jaunt down the coast without any trouble whatever.

100 MILES in 82 Mins., 46 Sec.

World's Touring-Car Record Beaten by THE EIGHT-CYLINDER CADILLAC

In an officially timed test on the Chicago Speedway a stock Cadillac eight touring car demonstrated to the world that it is the fastest touring car made.

Although the test was made for experimental purposes, it was under the supervision of the Automobile Club of America.

Two cars were used, each car fully equipped with top, glass front and extra wheel and tire.

On the first trial all existing touring car records were smashed when the car went 71.06 miles in 60 minutes, and 100 miles in 84 minutes, 16.45 seconds.

The second car, a new machine taken out of stock, went 72.41 miles in 60 minutes, and 100 miles in 82 minutes, 46 seconds.

The consistent running of these two cars was truly remarkable.

These were in every way stock models—the same as are delivered each day to purchasers.

The cars not only maintained this tremendous speed, but as the distance lengthened the speed and efficiency increased.

To successfully perform such a feat meant harmonious action in every unit, the lubrication, carburetion, radiation, ignition; these and a thousand and one other things all had their parts to play.

Each day it becomes more apparent that the Cadillac Eight stands supreme in the motor car world.

passenger roadster type found favor with Southern motorists.

George Skel, a Cleveland fancier, has imported two 1915 Buick flyers, which he will use for the numerous races to be conducted.

On one of these occasional gusty, dusty days of ours, riding along in your open car, hasn't it struck you that it would be a fine idea to have a Sedan Top, a top that would let in all the scenery and the sunlight, and keep out all the blow and bluster?

On the other hand, if you already use a Sedan, hasn't there been more than one occasion when Friend Sun is not burning things up, and lullful of air and breezes on the brow are the things you're after, when you have voted the Sedan Top oppressive?

If this dilemma has troubled you, you'll be interested in the KisselKar, for its Detachable Top arrangement enables you to have a closed car when it's chilly, and an open one when it's warm; and you can secure the two bodies at a price very little in excess of the touring car alone.

The top is fastened by means of six small inside bolts and the same top irons used to carry the "summer" top and windshield. You and one assistant, a wrench, and twenty minutes' work, and the deed is done.

An open car today, a closed car tomorrow—why not look further into this Detachable Top proposition. The ALL-YEAR Coupe, a Detachable Top mounted on the Four-Passenger Roadster model of the year 32-Four, priced at $1450, is the latest development of the Kissel ALL-YEAR Car.

The complete KisselKar line—including the new 32-Four, Five-Passenger Touring, $1050; Four-Passenger Roadster, $1150; a 36-Four Roadster at $1250; a 42-Six, Five-Passenger Touring at $1485; a Coupe Top as well as the Sedan for the new ALL-YEAR Cars, besides all the standard Kissel models—is now ready for your inspection; also the line of Commercial Cars—the Kissel Trucks—which range from the 1000-lb. capacity model at $950, to the 6-ton capacity at $4350.

FACTORY DOUBLED.

If you will stop to think how far it is from your house to the further corner of the third block down the street you will have a fair mental picture of a 1,600-foot shipping platform. Not that the platform itself is so important, but that the business growth of which it is indicative is really noteworthy. The shipping platform referred to runs alongside the main factory buildings of the Chandler Motor Car Company at Cleveland. At the Chandler factory new building operations which will double the size of the plant are under way this fall.

Six-Inch Longer Wheelbase—Larger Body—Larger, Quieter Motor—Every Detail Refined and Improved.

The new Grant Six is the epitome of six luxury, six comfort and six economy—TRUE economy.

It is richer and handsomer in appearance, and wonderfully complete in its appointments. It not only looks like a six—it IS a big six—though it is a LIGHT SIX.

Grant Six has the largest body of any car below $1000. Wheelbase is now 112 inches—six inches longer than last season's model. Rear seat now extends over the wheel house. Three large people can enjoy rear seat in comfort.

A six-foot man can stretch his legs in front or rear seat and have room to spare. Cushions are deeper and softer—upholstering more luxurious.

In every way Grant Six is refined and improved. The motor is larger, giving more power. It is still quieter, still more flexible. It throttles down to 1 1/2 miles per hour—speeds up to more than 30.

Think of a valve-in-head motor, Rayfield carburetor, Allis-Chalmers starting motor and generator, Atwater-Kent ignition, full floating rear axle, one-man top and complete equipment—a COMPLETE SIX for $795.

SEALS HUMBLE VERNON TIGERS.

Chick Autrey Hits Well and Breaks up Rally.

Roy Hitt Gets Bad Start, but Settles Down.

Tigers Fight to the Very Last Moment.

(BY DIRECT WIRE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—The locals took Vernon down the line today to the tune of 4 to 1, clinching the series and keeping well out in front. On Tuesday, last, Roy Hitt, who hasn't been pitching a good brand of baseball for a couple of months back, came to life with a shut-out on the Seals. He put the reverse English on his performance today and San Francisco earned every one of the four tallies that came its way. Bill Steen showed out, although, as the score will show, he was growing weaker and weaker as the innings progressed, and it was just as well for his prospects that the ninth inning, and no more, constituted a legal game of ball.

AUTREY WORKS WELL.
Chick Autrey, the new first sacker for the Seals, hit well and it was his quick work in the seventh that broke up a Vernon rally, and with a busy day in handling the ball there never was a misstep. Beyond any question he's the best fielding first-sacker the Seals have had in many a day.

Hitt got away to a bad start in the first frame, when the San Francisco canals collected heavy toll. With four smashes, three of which were infield punches, and a sacrifice fly, they sent two runs around the circuit. Much later in the day, when the seventh had come to hand, Bobby Jones followed up Ping Bodie's two-sacker with a home run over the right-field fence and the game was on ice.

FIRST BAD FOR HITT.

Roy, the southpaw, didn't look to last the game from the smashing he took in the first. Hitt, though it is true that he settled after that to pitch a better quality of ball.

Even in the ninth the Tigers were still a fighting pack. Deane went to bat for Hitt and opened with a clean two-bagger. Rader rattled the fence boards and there were visions of a rally. Two Seal pitchers started to warm up, but the hurry didn't last.

STUDEBAKER Used Car Department

IF you are going to buy a cheap new car. IF you are going to buy any priced second-hand car. Investigate the Studebaker Used Car Shop.

* Prices are low; values are high. Cars with all modern electrical conveniences can be purchased for as low as $400.00.

Studebaker does the largest volume of business in used cars of any house in Los Angeles. It is our earnest endeavor to have each customer a new friend, for we expect to sell them a new Studebaker car in the future.

The remarkable success of this department lies in these facts:—first, there is no place in the Studebaker sales policy for tricky methods or misrepresentation of any kind. Second, we sell a large volume of new cars and that means that we must accept in trade cars of earlier models or in many cases smaller cars of current design. In order to sell the number of used cars we must handle, we have a fixed policy of underpricing each car. Studebaker always undersells the market on used cars. Your dollar will go farther here than elsewhere and we will prove it if you will investigate.

REMEMBER:—A Car Good Enough for Studebaker to Sell is Good Enough for You to Own!

OAKS AGAIN BEAT ANGELS.

Ness Pulls a "Forer" the Base Path.

Slow Introduces New Style of Fielding.

Boles Scores from Second Infield Out.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

J. Clout Noss, having heard of the one George Foster had given him in Philadelphia, with a two-bagger about three hours before, had been experimenting along the same line in the ninth inning. Noss was made a two-bagger himself, and the third car to drop out of the game came empty.

Although Jack's two-bagger, three-thousand miles west of Philadelphia, was about the same as the effect was about the same. The difference was that it was a two-bagger instead of a one-bagger.

That isn't such a great difference. Many of the fans turned out to see the third game, and while we are willing that the angels should have their home run, as we have seen them do, the angels were kept up to the mark by the fact that they had a safe home run and held a safe home run.

There is little doubt that the angels in Philadelphia have been doing in the Philadelphia club. Every Red Sox or the Phillies win, as the world series games were, and for nothing to happen in the game.

The influence was also seen in the way the people lined up at the entrance. While the crowd was large as it might have been, it was not as large as it might have been.

Some of them again were empty soap boxes just outside the park.

They did this mainly because they had read that this is the best time in the big league. They would be in style. The only thing that makes these fans up-to-date and in style is the fact that they are in style.

The official attendance in Philadelphia was 30,306, as against 20,000, but it must be remembered that the game there was not advertised. Boston should be advertised. Boston should be advertised. Boston should be advertised.

LONG BEACH IS FINAL VICTIM.

Freshmen Score a Pair of Touchdowns.

Mallette is Whole Soul of the Offense.

Forward Pass Responsible for the Scores.

LONG BEACH, Oct. 9.—Working the forward pass with the greatest degree of success that has ever been displayed by a football team in this city, the husky U.S.C. freshman eleven, with five members of the varsity squad in the line-up, defeated the Long Beach High School team, 12 to 6, here today, by dint of their clever open-field work and end runs. Although the university babies went in to the game with the strongest line-up they have had this year, Long Beach held them to a lower score than did either Los Angeles High School or Manual Arts. It was the last game of the year for the freshmen, as the team will disband after today. Coach Glaze needing several of the first-year stars to fill out his varsity line-up.

Although Burkett, freshman right end, starred on the receiving end of the forward pass, Mallette, the fleet former San Diego High School quarter-back, brought the rosters to their feet time and again with his sensational gains around end and through the line. The U.S.C. game on offense was largely one of Mallette. Finding that the Long Beach line did not open sufficiently for substantial gains during the final half, U.S.C. opened up and gave the prettiest exhibition of successful forward passes ever perpetrated against a local eleven.

Mallette, on a fake forward pass, scored the first freshman touchdown in the first quarter of the game when he ran from the Long Beach 15-yard line around the goal posts. On the try for goal the ball hit the cross bar and failed to go over.

U.S.C.'s second score came in the second period, when Burkett caught a forward pass behind the Long Beach goal line from Mallette. As U.S.C. again failed to kick goal, the ball going wide, the scoring ended with the final final score reading 12 to 6 in favor of the freshmen.

The third period was punctuated by a 35-yard forward pass by the babies, Buck to Burkett, and a run of the state distance by Crouch, Long Beach end, who intercepted a freshman forward pass. Mallette, right tackle, who did the greatest part of Long Beach's tackling throughout the game, sustained a badly broken nose in the last few minutes of play. On offense, Capt. Beverly Anderson, left half-back, was the most consistent ground gainer for Long Beach, while Mallette, Curry, Dahlem, Marshall and Burkett starred for the U.S.C. freshmen.

SYRACUSE SCARES PRINCETON COACH.

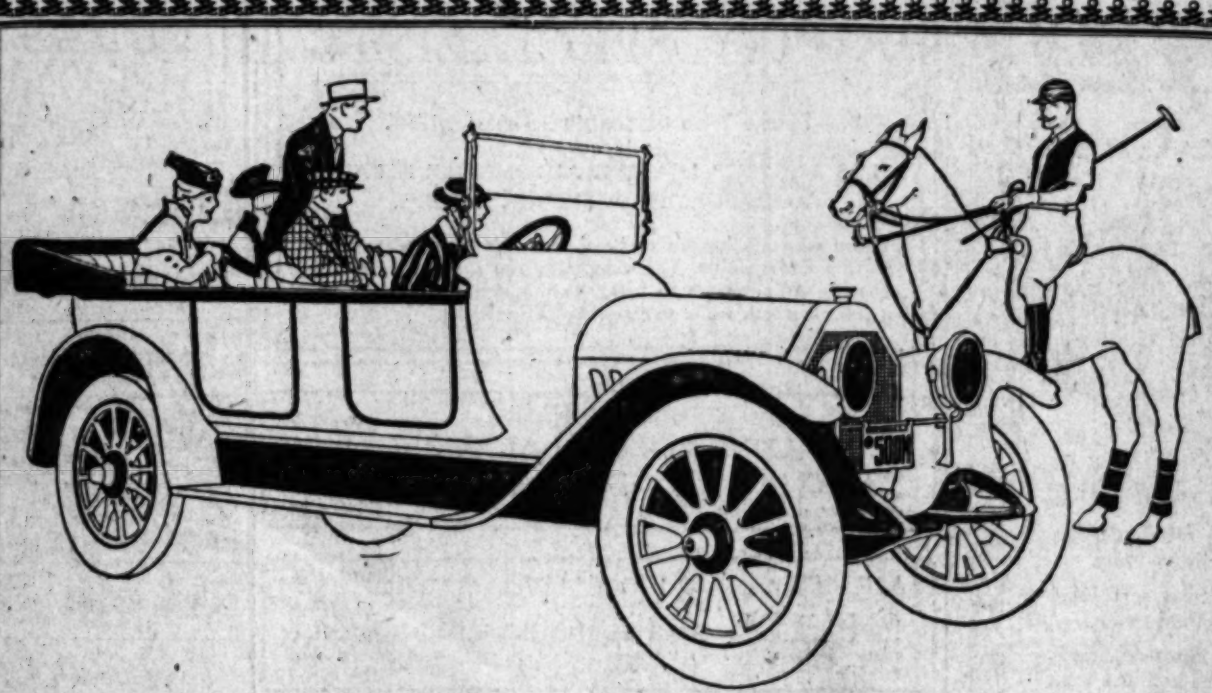

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

PRINCETON (N. J.), Oct. 9.—Princeton defeated Syracuse today, 3 to 6. Shortly after the beginning of the third quarter Tibbott kicked a field goal from the 25-yard line. The visitors were stronger than was anticipated, but Princeton's defense stiffened. Forward passing marked the game.

1916 OLDSMOBILE THE QUALITY SMALL CAR

The new 43 is extraordinarily distinctive. The body shows great originality. The lines are strikingly low, very much in vogue. Ample concessions have been made to the demand for comfort. Body sides are high, seats deep, cushions soft. As for leg room—there is more than enough.

Everywhere is comfort; everywhere style, smartness. Everything about the car compels admiration—solid cast aluminum running boards and toe board, long and buoyant springs, clear, live hickory wheels in natural finish, interior woodwork charmingly attractive.

The engine is of the Oldsmobile valve-in-head type, responsive, economical, accessible—known to deliver ten to fifteen per cent more power than either the L- or T-head type of equal displacement. All valves, enclosed with an effective silencer, produce the most nearly noiseless of all valve-in-head motors.

The car is stripped of superfluous tire-consuming pounds of weight. It is lean, lithe and swift like a carefully conditioned race horse. Most owners get considerably over the guaranteed mileage on casings. And the car shows a gasoline average of 17 to 22 miles per gallon.

Price $1095 f.o.b. factory.

Features that add to your comfort

Long wheelbase—120 inches.
Long buoyant springs.
Deep, soft cushions.
High body sides.
Large body, restful as an arm chair.

There are men at the forge and at the lathe who have worked for Oldsmobile and with Oldsmobile for five, ten and fifteen years. And 95 per cent of the foremen have been steadily at their jobs for five years or more.

Tigers Beat Indians.

Incomplete forward passes. Time and again the ends failed to get under the long shots of McClung and Brandtner. Finally, after a stuttering advance, the Tigers were held at the Indiana 25-yard mark, and McClung dropped over as perfect a goal as was ever seen.

Shortly after this the quarter ended and the Tigers again made an inconsistent march towards the Indiana goal. They gained and lost the gains being fewer but longer, until they reached the 20-yard mark, where a rugby pass culminated in Smith's pouncing over the line for the only touchdown of the day, McClung later kicking a difficult goal.

From this time on until the close of the first half the playing was exceedingly ragged on the part of the Tigers. Forward pass after forward pass failed and time and again 15-yard penalties were inflicted on them. Half-time found the Tigers badly winded, and the Indians as fresh as ever. The opening of the second half found the Tigers taking McClung's place at half.

The third quarter saw the Tigers kicking off to Sherman and Wieman recovered a fumble on the Indian's ten-yard line but the ball was called back to the center of the field on an offside play. The second try resulted less favorably to the Tigers, Fabio carrying the ball back twenty yards. The play became painfully slow and was only enlivened by a sensational forty-yard run back of a punt by Fabio. It was a great run. Brandtner was tackled hard and the back of his head hit the ground with a sickening thud. He was carried off and McIntosh took his place.

Shortly afterwards Smith was hurt and Odell went in at right half. The rejuvenated Tiger backfield worked better than the tired first-string men and ploughed through the Indian line to great effect, marching down the field time after time in the final quarter to within twenty yards of the goal line only to have a pass intercepted or a fifteen-yard penalty or something else happen.

Bats was the offensive hero this time with a pretty dodging run on a punt. Shorty Wells, stuck in at right end was the defensive hero. The game ended with the scrub backs hammering away at the Indians and very close to a score.

The most surprising feature of Occidental's play was the sad weakness with the forward pass. The passing itself was only fair, while the handling of it on the receiving end was positively rotten. Brandtner showed better in the backfield than ever before, his work in running back punts being especially noteworthy. Smith played a sensational game carrying the ball and McClung showed more speed than usual while his boots were perfect.

The Tiger line was a disappointment, inexperience handicapping the men. Bats, Odell, and McIntosh as backfield subs showed better than any Occidental ever had before. The work of Attache, the stock Indian back, on the defense was great while Lark, Attache, Nelson and Pablo all starred on the offense. The Indians are going to give California a big scare next Saturday.

In a preliminary game the Occidental freshmen trampled on the Hollywood aggregation, 25 to 0. Three touchdowns were made by the freshmen in the first half, and one goal was kicked.

The second half found the freshmen rapidly fading. A field goal was kicked by Brooks early in the half and that ended the scoring. By the last quarter the Hollywood aggregation had found itself and was going strong. Doyle especially distinguished himself, but they were unable to put over a score.

CLUBMEN GO AGAINST REGULAR STEAM ROLLER AT PALO ALTO.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

PALO ALTO, Oct. 9.—Stanford's varsity Rugby fifteen walked over the Barbarians this afternoon to the tune of 80 to 3. The score tells the story. The clubmen were outclassed, outplayed and outwitted. They simply could not stand before the determined onslaughts of the Stanford men.

The Cards ran the ball over during the first half minute of play and only the length of the field prevented the score being larger. Passing rushes were snappy, accurate and fast, but they were merely matters of form because they always worked. Swigart, who has been out of the game for three weeks, surprised the fans by his speed at the wing position. Bob Templeton's boots to touch increased in length and accuracy and presage some long field goals in the near future.

Stanford's freshmen defeated the Berkeley High fifteen as a result of snappy machine like back-field passing. Score, 13 to 5. Both teams were composed largely of heavyweights.

CHICAGO DEFEATS NORTHWESTERN.

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—The rejuvenated eleven of Northwestern University could not score off the University of Chicago today, but did hold the visitors to a single touchdown. A series of trick plays sent Agar across in the last quarter for the lone touchdown.

ANY BOY WISHING A TIP FROM UNCLE DICK NEED ONLY DROP HIM A LINE

For once in his life Uncle Dick approached the woodshed without being effusively greeted by Tommy and his chums. The moving target set up the previous week had lost none of its attractions, and they were still popping away at the wooden rabbit.

However, the boys made up for their seeming neglect when they did see him, and persuaded the old gentleman to take a shot.

"Well, well!" was his comment as he missed the agile cottontail. "My eyesight doesn't seem to be as keen as it was forty years ago. I guess you boys will have to do the shooting yourselves." And he added:—"As you're having so much fun we won't start anything new until you get tired of the rabbit."

But if Uncle Dick thought he was going to get a week off he made a bad guess. The appearance of Ed. Smith's little brother on the scene led up to the story of an exciting adventure and the making of a new contraption. Buddy Smith was making heavy weather in navigating a dilapidated express wagon, which he wanted fixed up so that his dog could be hitched to it. After looking over the outfit Uncle Dick remarked:—"Come, Tommy. You boys will have to postpone the shooting match while we set Buddy up in business. I remember a buckboard Uncle Bob designed that will be just the thing. We used saplings, but I think you can buy a couple of strips of seasoned hickory over at the wagon factory that would be even better. I'll never forget the wild ride I had on the one we built."

The boys were willing enough to leave their target shooting to hear the story, and the old gentleman was soon at work on the buckboard plans, talking a long streak while he worked.

Tommy's Uncle Bob conceived the buckboard idea when Doc, Wise, the veterinary surgeon, gave us Cyclops, Cyclops, or Clops, as we called him, was a big rangy animal, strong as a horse and as swift as a deer.

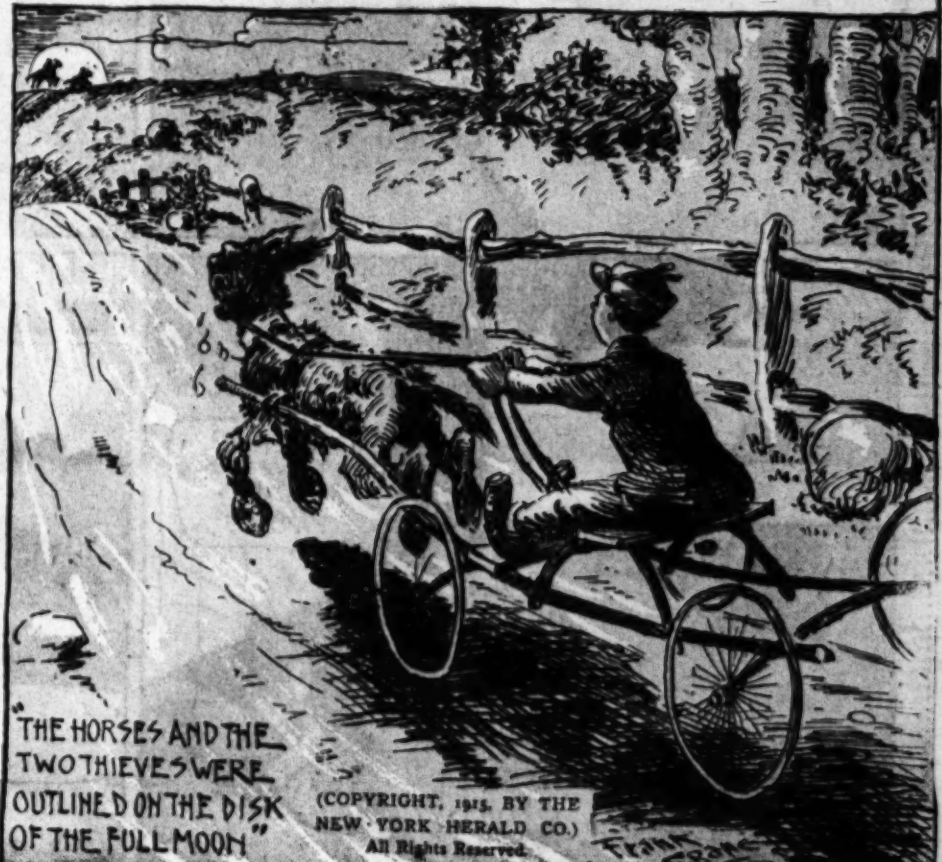

"We had just gotten him well broken to harness when I had the exciting trip I'm going to tell you about. There had been a lot of horse stealing in our section that season, and everybody was on the lookout for horse thieves. Of course, we took all the precautions we could against the pests.

"Besides Cyclops we had two beagle hounds and an English sheepdog. The hounds were chained up, but Clops and Shep ran loose at night. Well, one night about midnight Uncle Bob was awakened by a noise that sounded like somebody knocking at the kitchen door. We boys slept in the attic, and when the window you could see the back stoop. Quickly waking up, Bob peered out of the window and would just make out Shep staggering about as if he were sick. "There's something wrong with Shep," he shouted. "Go wake father up! Maybe it's horse thieves!"

"And sure enough it was! When we got to the barn we found the stable door broken open and Black Pete and Diablo missing. Poor old Shep and the two beagle hounds had been poisoned and were soon dead. And we naturally thought that Clops had got the same dose and had wandered off to die.

"Just then we heard Cyclops yelping out in the pasture, where he was probably chasing a prowling fox. Hearing Clops' yelp gave Uncle Bob an idea, and he quickly explained to father. His scheme was to hitch Clops to the buckboard and trail the thieves. Father jumped at the idea, but to Bob's great disappointment he decided that I do the driving. I was ten pounds lighter than either Bob or Tommy's father, and, as father said, in a long chase even a dog might get winded.

"Under no circumstances was I to close in on the thieves. If I caught up with them I was to hold back the dog until I passed some farmhouse where I could get assistance. Maybe I wasn't proud of the confidence father placed in me as I took a firm grip on the reins and made a flying start up the road. The hounds had a splendid lead and a splendid scent. I didn't try to direct Cyclops—just gave him his head and talked to him. He seemed to understand everything you said to him anyway, and I'm sure he knew just what he was doing that night. For two hours we raced through the deep woods, then we emerged into the open, where by the light of the rising moon I could see a considerable distance ahead.

There is nothing like similar experiences for producing sympathy. Those who love to read and who have been deprived of books know how to feel for others in similar plight. I was glad to send the addresses requested and I am happy to know of some one else who has been helped by the Commonwealth.

THE ORIENT CONTRIBUTES A FASHION

The Back is Wholly Japanesque.

A Dance Frock in Every Line

And never the twin shall meet—*

SANG Kipling; but Kipling wasn't intimately acquainted with Madame Fashion, and little recked he of her powers. Perhaps this same mighty dame heard the dogmatic statement, for lo! she flings at Mr. Kipling a glorious denial. Western woman wears an eastern frock—west and east are merged, at least in one instance, in a one-piece frock. Kipling must retract!

The orient, alluring, beautiful and with a mysterious charm, contributes a fashion; not one section of the orient alone, but three sections. The upper part of the bodice, viewed from the front, is molded along the embracing lines sometimes found in the garb of Hindu dancing girls. Dropping the eyes to the pretty satin-clad feet and the odd cut of the full skirt, one thinks instantly of the Chinese, the lily-footed women of the dragon. But as the model turns and the back view of the frock is displayed, the alluring front lines of the frock are forgotten, and little Madame Butterfly comes instantly to mind. Undoubtedly, the back of the frock is Japanese—Japanesque might be nearer the correct description, for the low-cut V at the back of the bodice is decidedly western.

The lines of this unusual frock are very beautiful, and when the richness of its color and the shimmer of the silk are added, it is nothing less than a creation, a thing lovely to behold. In it there is a poetry that is rarely captured in garments; it is a work of art—"a frock with a soul," a foreign couturiere would tell you.

Four materials are used in the frock—plain pink taffeta embroidered in a silver lotus design, and brocaded satin of a slightly deeper shade upon which are roses in taffeta weave. Scattered here and there upon this brocaded satin are silver lotus blossoms that match those upon the plain material. Pink maline and fur complete the list of materials. The bodice is made of the silver-embroidered plain taffeta. It is cut in two pieces at the front, a seam very obviously running down the center, and it shapes back in tight chrysalis form to the back, where it is joined to a full V'd neck. There is an overskirt of the brocaded satin, slightly deeper in shade than the other silk. This forms merely a dropped girdle at the front, but reaches quite to the bottom of the skirt at the back. A square piece of the tunic material forms a patch girdle at the back and ends under a modified obi bow of perfectly plain pink taffeta matching in shade the skirt proper and the bodice. Pink maline forms the foundation skirt, which latter is edged with brown marten fur. The tulle is repeated in wisps of sleeves.
